Senate Unit Passes JFK Arms Bills

Military Proposals Get Overwhelming Approval

WASHINGTON (AP)—President John F. Kennedy's requests for broad powers to call up more combat forces and buy more military hardware won overwhelming approval today from the Senate Armed Services Committee.

After a three-hour closed door session with Pentagon leaders the committee approved two bills without change and sent them to the Senate for expected passage tomorrow. The bills would:

1. Let the president call up 250,000 reserves and hold fighting men or units on active duty without their consent.

2. Empower the president to acquire a $958,570,000 priority list of airplanes, missiles, ships and other items. See also story, page 20.

Committee Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), said the latter bill was approved unanimously, while Sen. Francis Case (R-S.D.), cast a vote against reporting the manpower measure to the Senate.

FIRST CALL

Case explained he wanted to make certain that reservists and draftees with the least actual service would be the first called to duty. He said he hoped to work out an amendment assuring this for Senate consideration later.

Chairman Russell said other senators agreed that "the tragedy of Korea" should not be repeated. He indicated he referred to the fact that many World War II veterans were summoned back to duty while many younger men escaped military service.

Russell said the committee report would say that "to the extent possible, priority in recall of reservists should be applied to those in a drill pay status and to the six-month trainees rather than former volunteers and draftees."

DRILL PAY

He explained that only about half of the present reservists receive regular drill pay.

The six-month trainees are those who take half a year of active duty and then serve out their remaining obligation in reserve units.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said the planned buildup of fighting forces would rely first on volunteers, then on the draft and finally on call up of selected units and individual specialists.

Talking about the manpower bill, McNamara told the committee:

"We plan to use this authority sparingly."

House Group Backs Foreign Aid Proposal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Foreign Affairs committee approved President John F. Kennedy's controversial long-range foreign-aid financing plan today. It was a major administration victory.

The five-year, 8.8-billion-dollar plan would finance development loans for foreign countries by government borrowing. Opponents of the Treasury borrowing idea claim it will result in "backdoor spending" and less congressional control of foreign aid appropriations.

But the committee beat down all attempts to change the president's proposal. It cut 407 million dollars from Kennedy's 4.8-million-dollar foreign aid appropriation request for the current fiscal year but this was less than that inflicted by the Senate foreign relations committee which cut 436 million dollars.

The action virtually assures the president of getting the long-range borrowing authority he sought.

Other congressional developments:

Spending — GOP congressional leaders have pledged support of Kennedy's Berlin program but demanded that the administration make belt-tightening cutbacks on domestic spending. The stand of the Republicans in Congress was spelled out by House GOP leader Charles A. Halleck, Ind., and Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., at a press conference.

Sky Spy — National Space Administrator James E. Webb rejected Soviet newspaper charges the U.S. Midas "Sky Spy" satellite is engaged in espionage work over Russia. Webb told a Senate government operations subcommittee that the Soviet Union has lodged no formal protest and the only charges were in the Red Army's newspaper.

Automation — The House Education and Labor committee approved today a 263-million-dollar program for retraining 235,000 workers who have lost their jobs because of automation. The measure, approved 24-3, was drawn along the lines recommended by Kennedy but on a reduced scale. The Senate Labor Committee approved a four-year bill this week. The program would provide for testing and selection by the Labor Department of jobless workers to be trained in new skills. The Health, Education and Welfare Department then would take over arrangements for the training.

A-Detection Scope Widens

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Air Force experts said today satellites circling 50,000 to 75,000 miles from earth could detect deep space nuclear tests as far away as the sun.

The experts, Maj. John A. Poulson and Dr. B. P. Leonard, testified before a joint congressional atomic energy committee examining nuclear test detection methods.

Poulson, head of the Air Force's "Vela Hotel" project for devising a system to record nuclear explosions far from earth, said even at distances 100 million miles from earth a potential violator of a test ban could not be completely certain of avoiding detection.

33 Railroad Men Laid Off; More Expected

Cave-In Troubles Still Mounting In Aftermath

Twenty-three shop workers and 10 trainmen have been laid off their jobs in Tiburon by the Northwestern Pacific Railroad and more will be dropped in the next few days.

A spokesman for the railroad disclosed today that three more shop workers would be laid off tomorrow and four more during the first two weeks of August.

The layoffs are a result of the tunnel fire and collapse under Lincoln Avenue in North San Rafael. Because of the cut-off from the Tiburon shops and the train routes to the north and east, less workers are needed in the shops, the spokesman said.

Before the tunnel disaster which claimed the life of Frank Kinsler, 23, Alto fireman, about 60 men worked in the shops. In mid-August there will be half that number.

The 10 trainmen who have been laid off have been technically placed on the "extra board" which means that they will not work until called.

The spokesman said there has been no talk of closing the shop in Tiburon permanently by railroad officials. "There is still some work for the men but "not for all of them."

Civil Defense Headquarters Suddenly Swamped With Calls

RUSH FOR CIVIL DEFENSE—Mrs. Jean Smith, civil defense secretary to Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos, hands out packages of CD information to Stella Hallen (left) and Mrs. Margaret Jordan, while Mrs. J. W. Walker (foreground) examines outdated map of evacuation routes. Sudden influx of civil defense inquiries—and offers of assistance—was reported today as nation reacted to President John F. Kennedy's speech on Berlin crisis. (Independent-Journal photo)

Marin Citizens Seem Aware Of Emergency

Marin civil defense headquarters in the sheriff's office were suddenly swamped today by a deluge of calls.

Some people wanted information and some offered help in what all evidently deemed a mounting national emergency, according to Mrs. Jean Smith, who is civil defense deputy to Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos.

The big rush came since President John F. Kennedy's nationally televised speech on American steps to meet the Berlin crisis. "Yesterday we had 25 inquiries, with many offers to help," said Mrs. Smith. Among the latter was an offer by Russel G. Lewis of Sausalito to provide a fleet of boats for any purpose needed in an emergency. Lewis said he had three sightseeing type vessels available, with five men as crew, and could haul 235 passengers on the three.

If an emergency developed, Lewis said, he could get 35 more vessels on short notice.

BLOCK WARDEN?

Other volunteers told Mrs. Smith they will provide both personal services and autos in time of need.

"One woman wanted to know who her block warden was," said Mrs. Smith. "I said there was none but I'd be glad to help organize. It turned out the inquirer was a Navy commander in the last war, used to handling people and ready to pitch in. I'm not letting anybody get away!"

Most inquiries are about food and shelter, according to Mrs. Smith. Some requested that classes be formed to equip volunteers for civil defense work. Mrs. Smith said there will be an adult education program later.

HOME PROGRAM

Inquirers are being given packages containing booklets of general information and dealing with such subjects as the national plan for defense and defense mobilization, a Marin County brochure on "Civil Defense Home Storage Program," a list of essential food supplies, a book on building a family fallout shelter, suggestions for survival of nuclear attack, information about Conelrad radio warnings, "Facts About Fallout Protection," and a booklet on first aid emergency kit.

Mrs. Smith, who formerly worked with County Administrator Alan Bruce and has continued to devote part time to his office work since he was moved to Room 300 of the courthouse and the sheriff was made civil defense coordinator, said she has become so busy with civil defense work this week she will no longer be able to assist the administrator.

Marin Draft Call Likely Will Double

Marin County selective service call for August likely will be about doubled, it appeared today, as recruiters for the armed services reported a flood of inquiries since President John F. Kennedy's Berlin crisis speech Tuesday night.

The August call for Marin's Selective Service Board 25 was initially for four men. But Lt. Col. Frank G. Lyman, district coordinator for Selective Service in San Francisco, said it appeared likely this would be raised to seven.

Col. Kenneth H. Leitch, California Selective Service director, said in Sacramento the statewide Selective Service call was expected to be 1,025 men in the 23-25 age group for August, upped from a "normal" 641. He forecast 1,600 men in the same age bracket would be called in September, and that induction of 22-year-olds would start in October and of 21-year-olds in December.

65,000 1-A

Leitch said the President's program for building the armed forces would draft a quarter of the 65,000 young Californians classified 1-A.

Marin recruiters reported an influx of callers and of telephone inquiries, but with most of the inquirers in no hurry to don khaki or blues.

M/Sgt. Donald Lembcke, Army recruiter at 819 A Street, San Rafael, said he received 20 to 25 phone calls yesterday and had about 15 office callers compared with a normal four or five. He had one recruit ready to take the oath today, he said.

COAST GUARD

Yeoman 2c Lowell Hickok, Coast Guard recruiter at the same address, reported "about 20 shoppers" yesterday compared with the usual one or two a day—but "they mostly just wanted information."

The report was similar from Sgt. Chester Thorne, Air Force recruiter who also has an office at the A Street address.

Chief Robert Trigon, Navy recruiter at 1116 Fourth Street, San Rafael, said there has been no rush to sign up but many inquiries from inactive reservists with World War II service asking if they were likely to be called to active duty. That question he couldn't answer.

MAY HAVE FLAWS

Cave-In Death Brings Juvenile Law Debate

Speakers on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" today agreed that laws regarding juvenile offenders are adequate but there may be flaws in their administration.

The topic of the discussion, "Are Our California Laws Regarding Juvenile Offenders Too Lenient?" lead to references by all the members to Frederick Alfred Wilson, 13, and Jimmie James Rogers, 12, of Santa Venetia, who admitted setting the San Rafael tunnel fire that took the life of fireman Frank Kinsler.

Speakers were Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety; Sheriff's Inspector William Bradley; Chief Probation Officer Walter Busher; Dr. James Stubblebine, psychiatrist at juvenile hall, and Barbara Taylor, retired San Francisco high school teacher. Kitty Oppenheimer was moderater.

Garety expressed disfavor with the approach of some judges that juvenile offenders are "after all just juveniles and will grow out of it." Garey said the crimes of these offenders must be "dealt with realistically as they are presented." He said too many youths have a disregard for the law — "they look at it as a joke."

He was supported in his opinions by Inspector Bradley, who declared that it was "disgusting to see young offenders laugh and joke" after they have been convicted, then given an easy sentence for a serious crime. He said he has seen them in the courthouse halls "mock the magistrate who judged them mercifully.

Dr. Stubblebine, during the question period, asserted too many people feel that psychiatrists are too lenient, "when in my experience at the Langley Porter Clinic (at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco), psychiatrists were more strict with offenders than law enforcement officials."

A telephone caller asked what would be done with the boys who set the tunnel fire. Busher said it was too early to decide. Garety answered they must be kept out of circulation until tendencies they now have are removed.

Dr. Stubblebine said it is the

PUSH BUTTON WAR MISSILE TEST SUCCESS

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A Minuteman missile, the weapon designed for pushbutton war capability, blazed about 5,000 miles down the Atlantic range today scoring its second success in three test launchings.

The sleek, 58-foot rocket spurted a thick column of white smoke as it lifted smoothly from its pad and pitched quickly toward the southeast. The three solid-fuel stages fired in quick succession and propelled a nose cone to a broad ocean area.

Chrysler Chairman Quits Job

NEW YORK (AP)—L. L. (Tex) Colbert today quit as chairman and president of the Chrysler Corp.

Colbert's action was announced at a regular meeting of the Chrysler firm, the nation's third largest auto maker.

Lynn A. Townsend, Chrysler administrative vice president, was elected president and a member of a newly created executive committee.

Colbert will remain in the company as chairman of Chrysler Corp. of Canada.

In a letter to the board of directors, Colbert said:

"Any personal desires on my part to continue to head the company should give way to considerations of what seems to be best for the company, its employees, its holders and its dealers."

U.N. Council To Meet On Tunis Charge

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — United Nations Security Council chairman Leopold Benites today summoned the 11-nation committee into emergency session tomorrow to hear a new Tunisian complaint against French refusal to withdraw its troops from the city of Bizerte.

At the same time, a U.N. spokesman denounced the "open disregard" of U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's diplomatic immunity by French troops who stopped and searched his car outside of the shell-torn city yesterday. He added, however, that he did not know whether Hammarskjold planned to file a formal protest with the French government.

The Security Council, meeting in emergency session last Saturday, ordered a cease-fire in Bizerte and the withdrawal of French and Tunisian troops to positions held before the outbreak. The ceasefire is in effect but France has made no move yet to pull back its troops. (See also story, page 9..)

Diplomatic quarters said Tunisia may seek a formal condemnation of France for refusing to comply with the counsil's order. The Tunisian delegation also may seek open support from the council for its demand that France turn over its naval-air base at Bizerte to Tunisia.

France, as a permanent member, could block any condemnation or other action by the council by using its veto.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Soviets Executed

LONDON (AP)—Moscow Radio said last night two Soviets have been executed by a firing squad for speculating with Soviet money.

The victims—named as Y. T. Rokotov and V. P. Faybishensko—were the first to die under recently announced Soviet laws providing the death sentence for profiteering in currency.

Pope On Peace

CASTEL GONDOLFO, Italy (AP)—Pope John XXIII said on Wednesday that he "seeks always to be a man of peace" and to emphasize the things that unite men.

The pontiff made the remarks at his summer residence here during a special audience for the members of "Pax Christi"—The Peace of Christ.

"We seek," said the Pope, "to be absolutely faithful to the peaceful teaching of our Lord. We seek always to be a man of peace in the fullest meaning of the term."

Asks U.N. Help

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—Bernard Brous, accused of blowing up three telephone company microwave stations in the Nevada-Utah desert, yesterday asked the United Nations to intervene in his behalf.

Brous, 52, was arrested by Mexican authorities and turned over to the United States earlier this year. Acting as his own attorney the self-styled commander of the republican army filed a petition in U.S. District court asking that his plea to the U.N. be made part of the court record.

Medal For Yuri

HAVANA (UPI)—Soviet cosmonaut Maj. Yuri Gagarin yesterday became the first person to receive Cuba's new and highest honor "the order of Giron beach."

Giron Beach is the landing site of the abortive invasion last April. The order is given for "distinction in the struggle against imperialism and colonialism or for outstanding contributions for the peace and progress of humanity."

Congo Meeting

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI)—The Congolese parliament today entered its second day of secret sessions designed to achieve a broadly based government of national unity.

United Nations troops supported by artillery, armored cars and war dogs kept a tight security guard around Lovanium University where the deputies and senators were meeting for the first time in a year.

From merger reports that slipped through the cordon, it appeared that Katanga Province had outsmarted itself by boycotting the session.

Rhodesia Move

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (UPI)—Southern Rhodesia will have Africans in its parliament and will become virtually independent from Britain, results of a nationwide referendum disclosed today.

With all but 12 of the 50 constituencies counted, the vote was 39,928 to 15,655 for a new constitution.

This was a 2-1 victory for the United Federal Party which controls the government of Southern Rhodesia and the Central African Federation.

Aged Aid

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state's 252,060 needy aged are in line for an increase of up to $1 a month in aid on top of the hike approved by the last legislature.

Legislative Counsel Ralph Kleps told Chairman Phillip Burton (D-San Francisco) of the ssembly Social Welfare Committee that the increase is provided for in the recent social security bill passed by Congress. The 1961 legislature approved benefit increases averaging $8 a month.

Feud In Virginia

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A smouldering feud between rival gangs of white and Negro youths at Blackstone, Va., exploded into violence as two white teen-agers were wounded by shotgun pellets.

The youths were wounded last night when Negroes fired into a milling crowd made up of the two gangs. Police Chief Bruce Farley said they were not seriously hurt.

Polio Decline

SACRAMENTO (AP) — There was a sharp decline in the number of cases of paralytic polio reported in California through July 8, according to the Public Health Department.

The Department said yesterday there have been only 35 cases in contrast to the 122 cases at the same time last year. In 1951, there were 94 cases.

Pre-Operative Advice

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Heavy smokers should cut down drastically on their smoking for a week or two before an operation, says Dr. Emil A. Naclerio, chief of thoracic surgical services at Columbus Hospital, New York. He told delegates to a medical society meeting that failure to take this precaution subjects a patient to post-operative pulmonary complications.

French Snub Dag As He Leaves Tunis

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP) — Dag Hammarskjold left for New York today with an earful of Tunisian complaints and a snub from the French, who accused him of showing favoritism toward Tunisia in the Bizerte crisis.

Pursuing his customary policy of uncommunicativeness to newsmen, the U.N. secretary-general said nothing about any recommendations he might be taking back to the Security Council. The council is expected to meet soon after his return for further discussion of the crisis between France and Tunisia.

REBUFFED

Hammarskjold was rebuffed in an attempt to see the French commander in Tunisia, and the French foreign office said it would be useless for him to visit Paris.

The French attitude marked a further deterioration in relations between France and the world organization, of which President Charles de Gaulle has grown increasingly contemptuous.

Hammarskjold, who came here at the invitation of Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba, said he hoped "common sense and human wisdom" would prevent any further fighting around the French naval and air base at Bizerte.

IGNORES U.N.

De Gaulle's government, pointedly ignoring the U.N., said in a statement Wednesday night it wanted peace talks soon "between French and Tunisian authorities."

Hammarskjold had written Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville complaining because France had not complied with the Security Council resolution calling for withdrawal of French troops that occupied Bizerte city.

Couve de Murville in reply noted Hammarskjold's presence in Tunis at Bourguiba's invitation and said his letter "seems to me to expose the views of the Tunisian government."

Shooting Victim To Leave Utah

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Charles Boothroyd, 55, Rockville, Conn., leaves Utah with the haunting memory of murder — murder of the woman he planned to marry. But he wants to return.

"I do plan to come back again to Utah," he said when he was released from the hospital here yesterday. "It is so beautiful here.

Boothroyd was shot twice in the head by a man he stopped to help on a lonely desert road July 4 near Moab in southeastern Utah.

The man tried to rob him, but ended up shooting Jeannette Sullivan, 41, also of Rockville, in the back of the head.

She died. He shot Boothroyd and left him for dead.

Mrs. Sullivan's daughter, Denise, 15, tried to drive off in their car but the killer ran her down in his car and took her with him. Dennise is presumed dead.

Boothroyd said he met Mrs. Sullivan two years ago and planned to marry her. He took Dennise and Mrs. Sullivan on a vacation camping trip to Utah and Wyoming as a Christmas present to Dennise for her school work.

On July 7, FBI agents stopped Abel Aragon, 35, on a highway not far from the kidnap-killing to question him about it. But the former Marine shot and killed himself.

East Germany Roadblocks Reported

BERLIN (UPI)—The East German Army was reported today to have thrown up machine-gun roadblocks along highways in an effort to slow the flow of refugees to the West.

Travelers to Berlin said that in addition to roadblocks, East German Army patrols equipped with walkie-talkies were roving the highways leading to Berlin—both east and west of the city making thorough traffic checks.

In the past, inhabitants of the East German Communist Zone traveled to East Berlin along these highways and then crossed into West Berlin and freedom. The checks were believed designed to stem this flow of this traffic.

It was the first time the Communists were reported to be using units of their 110,000-man "People's Army" in support of regular police to curb the flow of refugees.

Travelers said that on the 180-mile highway from Berlin to Dresden three road blocks were set up to check traffic. Lines of East Germans as long as a half-mile were reported backed up awaiting clearance.

One traveler said 12-man squads of Communist police were traveling on open trucks.

Despite Communist moves to curb the refugee flow about 1,000 more East Germans today requested asylum in West Berlin. This raised to around 26,500 the total who fled to the West this month.

West German intelligence experts meanwhile were reported to believe that the Soviet Union is worried about how much loyalty they would get from the East German Army in a fight over Berlin.

Big Peach Crop Expected For '61

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—California's freestone peach crop is expected to reach 13.1 million bushels this year or six per cent more than in 1960, the U.S. Department of Agriculture said.

The California plum crop will yield about 90,000 tons in 1961, it was reported by the U.S. Agriculture Department That is an increase of 10 per cent over last year.

Arms Buildup May Hurt Kennedy's New Frontier

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy apparently has put in jeopardy part of his New Frontier program by his call for additional defense spending.

Spurred by the popular support Kennedy aroused in taking his case to the nation Tuesday night, Congress is in the process of giving him the $3,454,000,000 he asked — plus a year's authority to boost military manpower — as speedily as its ponderous machinery can operate.

But the enthusiasm with which members of both parties are backing the chief executive in the buildup of arms strength in connection with the Berlin crisis is matched by the misgivings with many view the fiscal future.

Republicans have taken the lead in demanding domestic economies aimed at pruning what they say otherwise may be a deficit in excess of five billion dollars for the fiscal year ending next June 30. Conservative Democrats are talking in the same terms.

The Republican Congressional Committee said in a statement last night that "the president can't have it both ways" and "must shelve unnecessary civilian spending for the duration of the international emergency."

"We cannot afford the fat of social experimentation at this time if we are to develop the sinews of survival," the statement said.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd, (D-Va.), called on Kennedy to turn his attention immediately to "curtailment of all non-defense expenditures . . . which may be desirable but not absolutely necessary."

Kennedy has established a fairly good batting average in combatting the traditional Republican-Southern Democratic coalition and getting Congress' approval of legislation dealing with distressed areas, housing, minimum wage, Social Security and unemployment compensation.

But the increased military outlays have injected a new element in this contest — the prospect of a whopping budget deficit or increased taxes in 1962, when all House seats and one-third of those in the Senate are up for grabs in the election. Kennedy has left the tax question open but said he wants a strictly balanced budget next year.

Kennedy owes passage of some of his New Frontier proposals to liberal Republicans who have supplied the necessary margin of votes. These Republicans want social legislation passed.

A-Weapons Not Ruled Out For U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedy administration does not preclude the possibility that atomic weapons might be used in limited wars, but its new mobilization program veers somewhat away from previous doctrine.

That doctrine, as adopted by the Eisenhower administration, was predicated largely on the invoking of atomic firepower to offset the military manpower advantage of the Communist camp.

The program outlined by President John F. Kennedy and explained in detail to a Senate Appropriations subcommittee yesterday by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara is threaded with repeated references to augmenting weapons firing standard, conventional explosive.

McNamara says this is for the purpose of providing greater versatility, to give the U.S. military more choice in the arms it would use to cope with less than nuclear war.

Marin Has Enough Vaccine For Polio

Marin County is "holding its own" in supplies of Salk polio vaccine, Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, said today.

Shortages of the vaccine have been reported in many areas of the state due to discovery of monkey virus in the products of two of the nation's largest manufacturers.

The vaccine, Dr. Albrecht explained, is cultured in the kidney tissue of monkeys. The virus, believed to be harmless to human beings, is extremely difficult to detect and reportedly turned up in vaccines manufactured by Mercke, Sharpe and Dohme and Parke-Davis.

None of the vaccine on hand in Marin was manufactured by either of these companies, Dr. Albrecht said. Present supplies are from Eli Lilly and Co. and Weyth Laboratories Inc.

Free shots are given daily between 2 and 4 p.m. at the Marin County Health Department. Due to the shortage, shots were given only two days a week a couple of weeks ago, Dr. Albrecht said. The daily schedule has been resumed, she said.

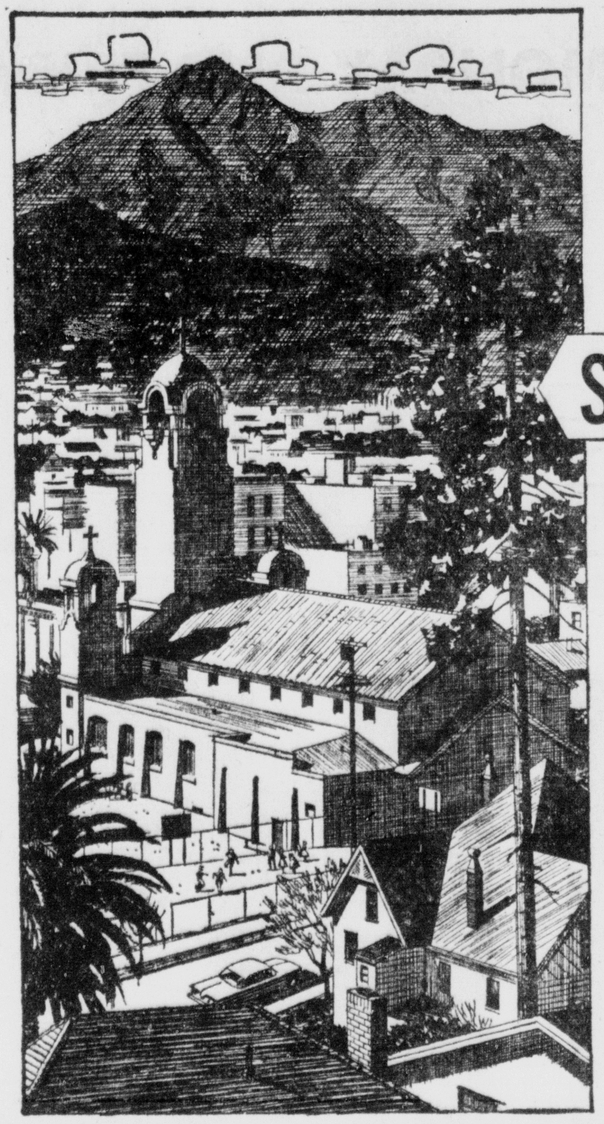

Sanity Hearing Slated For Bongo Drummer

Bongo drummer Victor Andrew Gipson 27, must serve from two to 20 years in state prison for burning down his own house in Tamalpais Valley, unless a jury finds he was insane at the time.

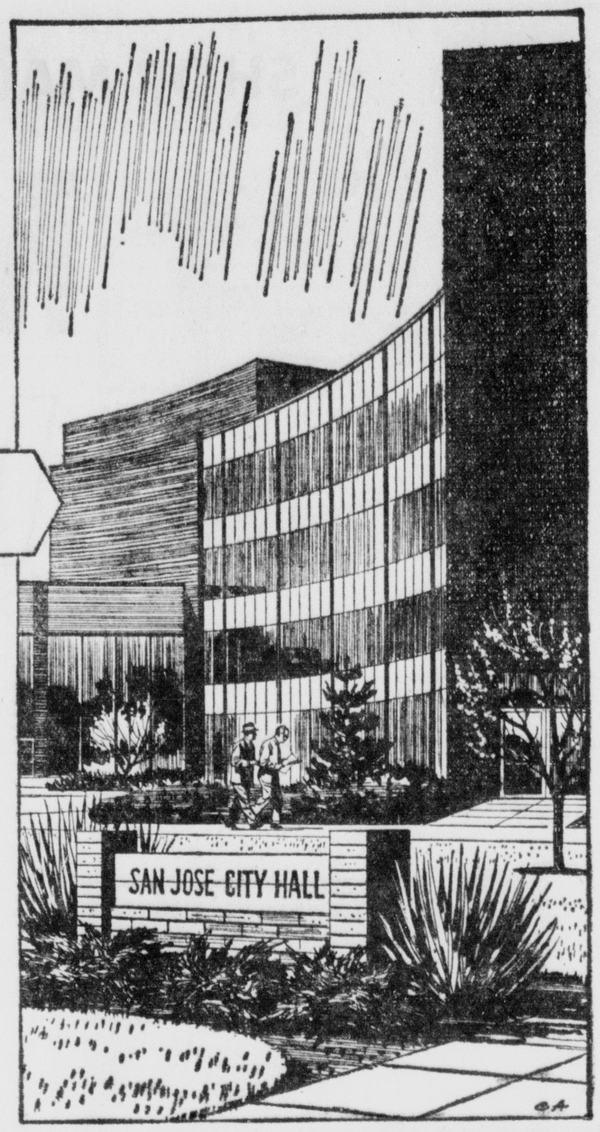

A sanity hearing is set for 10 a.m. Tuesday before the same jury of 11 women and one man who found Gipson guilty of arson yesterday after three hours deliberation.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Charles L. Convis prosecuted Gipson for setting fire to his home at 363 Pinehill Road last March 19. The two-day trial was held before Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. in Marin Superior Court.

Two psychiatrists, Dr. Bernard Diamond of Ross and Dr. Richard G. Argens of Napa State Hospital, are scheduled to testify at Tuesday's sanity hearing.

YOUR VOICE TRAVELS 67 MILES FROM SAN RAFAEL TO SAN JOSE

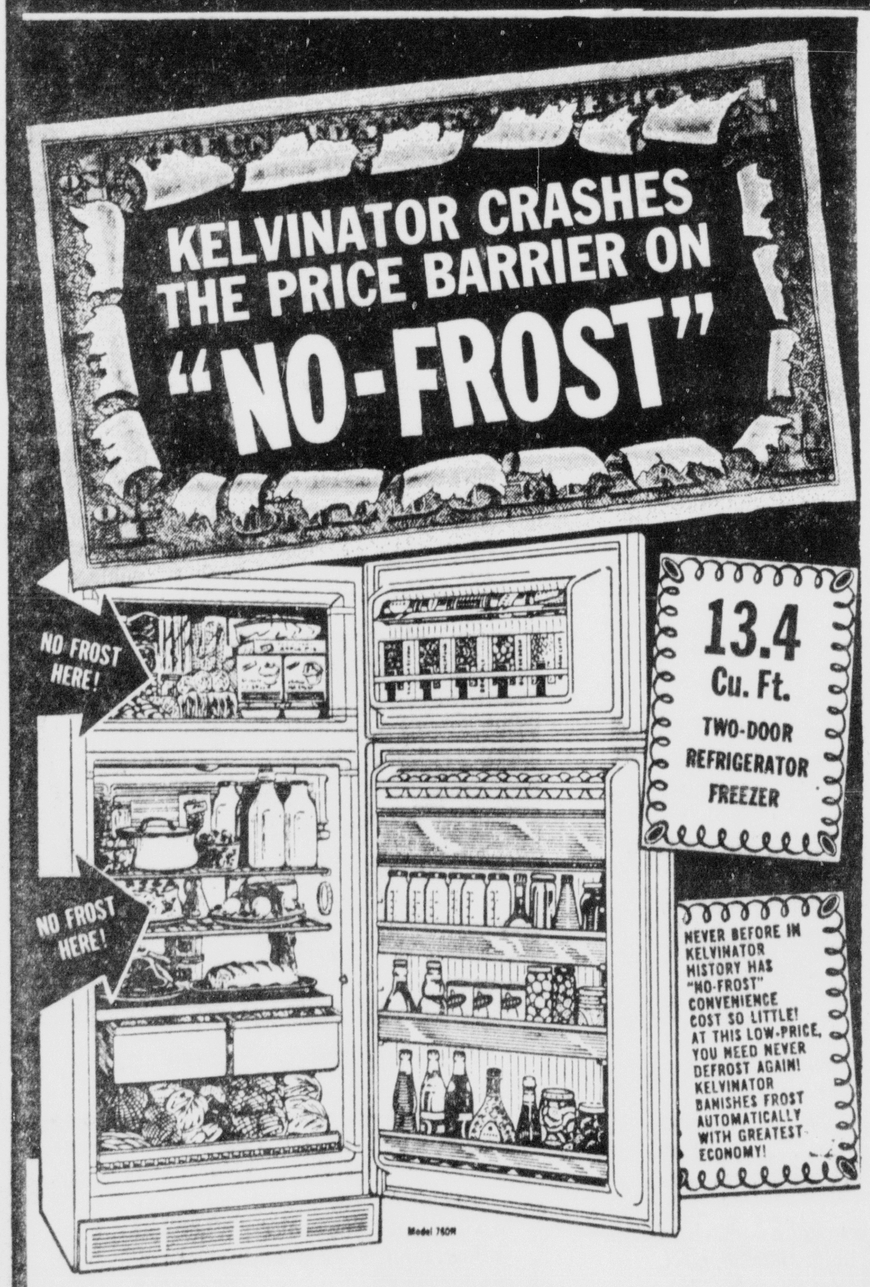

It's a long distance, but this phone call costs 15% less than Long Distance rates

HERE'S WHY: Although your call from San Rafael to San Jose travels as far as many Long Distance calls, you pay less than Long Distance rates. This call, like most calls to other communities in the Bay Area, is measured in message units. The number of message units depends on how far you call and how long you talk. The message units are combined on your bill instead of each call being itemized. This costs less for bookkeeping, so you pay less for these calls.

If you ever need these calls itemized, for business or any other reason, place them through the Operator as station-to-station calls. The charge will be billed separately at regular long distance rates, without the 15% saving.

Rapid Transit Details Revealed

WHAT'S MEANT — Black lines show routes proposed for rapid transit system, with small figures indicating the time from Oakland or San Francisco terminals to the various stops. Note 22 minutes to San Rafael, 12 minutes to Sausalito. During morning and evening peaks, trains would operate as frequently as every 90 seconds. During remainder of day, they would be at 15-minute intervals.

A detailed picture of 120 miles of high speed, automatically operated, underground and elevated rail transportation was unveiled today by the Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

Marin County's share of the ultra modern system — which even caters to charge account customers—totals 19.4 miles of track with seven stations between the Golden Gate Bridge and Santa Venetia. Future plans will extend the service to Ignacio.

According to the final report given the district directors today by consulting engineers, the entire system would not be in operation for another 10 years. Significant portions of the system would be operating by 1968.

Creation of the line, which is estimated to cost $1,078,000,000, hinges on passage of general obligation bonds which would come before the voters in June, 1962.

By 1980, the engineers estimated, the system would be carrying more than 127,000,000 passengers a year and producing a net revenue of $21,000,000.

The completed system will contain 120 miles of two-track lines including 20 miles of subways and tunnels, 42 miles of aerial lines, 52 miles of grade-separated surface lines, a four-mile tube linking San Francisco and Oakland and a two-mile rail link built within the lower structure of the Golden Gate Bridge.

Cost of the trans-bay tube would be financed separately through surplus Bay Bridge automobile tolls.

Entering Marin at the Golden Gate Bridge, the line passes beneath Vista Point, passes Fort Baker, enters the Sausalito tunnel, then climbs to the elevated Sausalito stop.

From there, it follows the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right of way, passes under Richardson Bay Bridge and stops in Mill Valley on East Blithedale.

From a tunnel south of the Corte Madera interchange, the line crosses about Highway 101 to the Corte Madera station at Tamalpais Drive.

Proceeding north, the system parallels the railroad on aerial structure across Corte Madera Creek and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard toward the San Rafael station on the west side of the railroad south of Irwin Street.

From there the line parallels the railroad through the remainder of San Rafael and enters a tunnel beneath the Lincoln Avenue interchange. It then crosses to the east of Merrydale Road, rejoining the railroad to pass beneath Highway 101 and emerge at the Santa Venetia station near the Civic Center.

Minimum fare will be 25 cents for any trip up to eight miles with longer trips being charged on a per-mile basis. Fare, for example, from San Rafael, would be: Santa Venetia, 25 cents; Berkeley, 95 cents; Walnut Creek, $1.15; San Francisco, Montgomery and Kearny Streets, 60 cents; San Mateo, 95 cents; Palo Alto, $1.20.

Fares will be collected automatically, serving both cash and charge account customers. On-the-cuff riders will merely insert an identification card in the turnstile and will be billed by the month.

The entire operation of the proposed 900 cars in the system will be automatic, with a single attendant aboard each train to monitor its operation and to reduce speed or stop in the event of an emergency.

Cars are scheduled to run as frequently as every 90 seconds during rush hours, with normal operation at maximum intervals of 15 minutes. Average speeds, including station stops, are estimated at about 50 miles per hour with top speeds in excess of 70 miles per hour.

The 87-page report, the result of more than two years of study, was prepared by the firms of Parsons, Brinkerhoff, Quade and Douglas, of New York and San Francisco; Tudor Engineering Co., San Francisco; and the Bechtel Corporation, San Francisco.

107 Million Pounds Of Turkeys Stored

SAN FRANCISCO, (UPI)— About 107 million pounds of turkeys were stored in warehouses on July 1, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, reported.

That's about 40 million pounds more than a year ago. And 29 per cent of the supply is in storage on the West Coast —mostly in California, the largest turkey producing state.

Firm Develops Air Raid Warning System For Home

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — An air raid warning system for householders, mentioned by President John F. Kennedy in his speech to the nation Tuesday night was developed at the Midwest Research Institute in Kansas City.

The device, called the National Emergency Alarm Repeater, is a little box that can be plugged into an electrical outlet in any home and can be sold for less than $10.

Henry Brown, electronics engineer at the Office of Civil Defense Mobilization in Battle Creek, Mich., confirmed yesterday that Kennedy was speaking about NEAR.

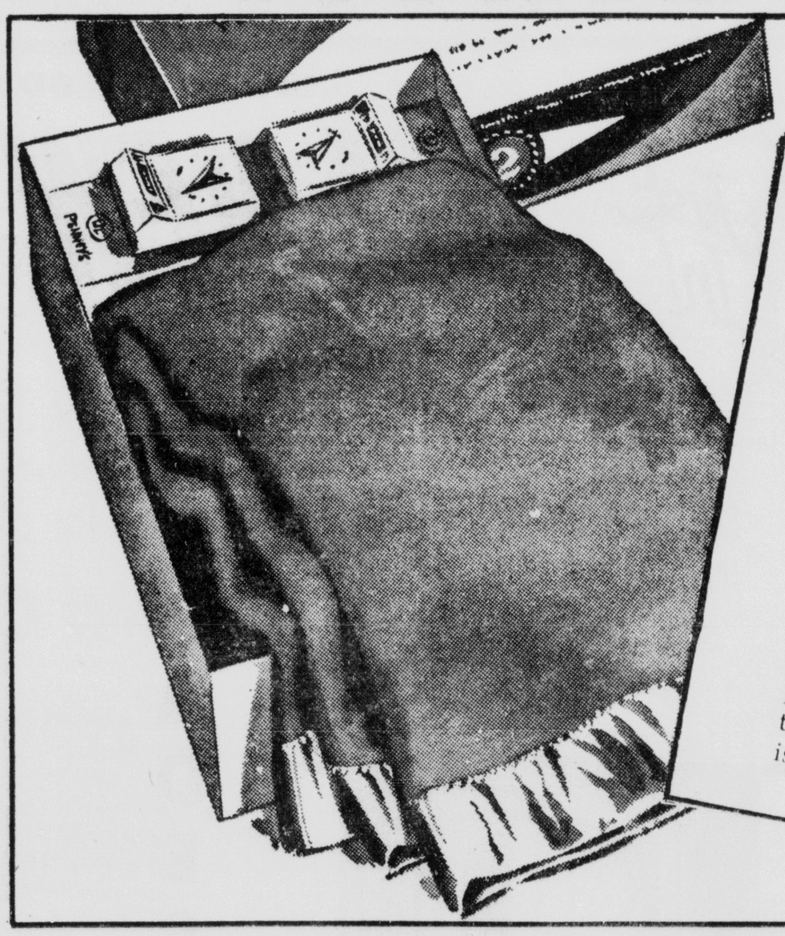

Dr. Charles N. Kimball, Midwest Research president, said: "All the research and development has been done. The next step would be putting it into production."

However, in order to operate the alarm system, power substations would have to be equipped with generators to convert part of the regular 60-cycle power into the special signal.

Dr. Kimball and Harold L. Stout, who has been in charge of the project, said the equipment could be installed nationwide at an expense of $1 a home.

Five Bolinas Teen-Agers Rob Store

Five Bolinas teen-agers broke into the John R. Pepper market to get food and drinks for a beach party, but were caught enjoying their loot around a beach bonfire about 1 a.m. today.

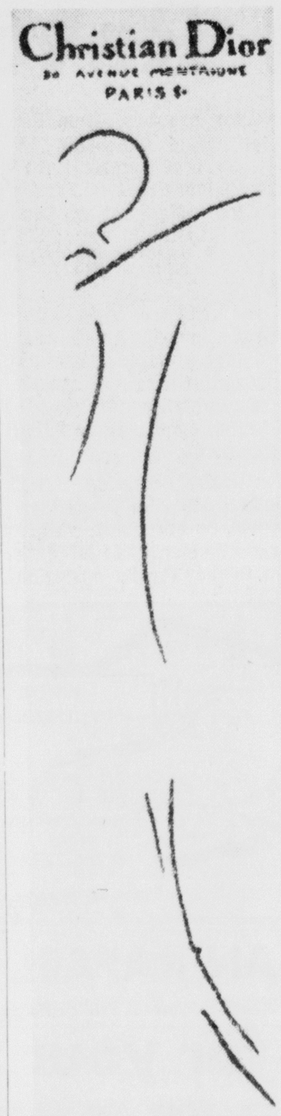

Sheriff's investigators went to the end of Brighton Avenue, followed fresh footprints on the beach sand, and caught the five boys with beer, candy and cigarettes they admitted taking from the store. The boys ranged in age from 13 to 16.

The 16-year-old was unconscious from drink, officers reported. When they awakened him, he started to battle the deputies and had to be handcuffed. Two of the boys were turned over to Marin Juvenile Hall, and the rest returned to their parents. They will be cited to appear before probation officers.

At 12:35 a.m., nearby residents reported that boys in white shirts were carting a box out of the grocery store. Sgt. Edward Levine, Inspector Guido Battaglia and Deputies Robert F. Bertrand and William Bradford went to investigate.

The owner of the store said 10 six-packs of beer, quantities of candy and cigarettes were stolen. A vent that leads to the refrigerator room had been pried out for entry.

When officers reached the beach, the boys were in their sleeping bags around a large fire. They admitted the break-in and helped officers recover part of the loot. They also admitted breaking into a home in the Highlands about 8:30 last night to steal liquor.

WHAAAAT? — This is how women are supposed to look next year, according to Marc Bohan who brought out Dior fashions today in Paris. The sketch shows the "Charm 62" line and reflects a trend toward figure-hugging styles. See story on page 21. (AP Wirephoto)

Healdsburg area by truck, cutting down the railroad's traffic. No trains are coming into San Rafael from points north. Some of the train traffic has been re-routed to Tiburon from the east. Transcontinental shipping to San Rafael has not been affected by the tunnel collapse.

San Rafael Public Works Supt. Norris Rawles got the green light from the city council last night to continue negotiations with the Northwestern Pacific Railroad and the California Division of Highways to widen Lincoln Avenue to the east past the cave-in.

Rawles hopes to provide two lanes of traffic entering San Rafael from Highway 101. Traffic now is held to one lane leaving San Rafael via Lincoln Avenue.

The new lanes would run over a portion of the tunnel which is concrete. Rawles reported it was found safe by the engineers from Morrison-Knudsen Co. of Boise, Idaho.

Northwestern Pacific Railroad workmen would drive pilings under the tunnel, but they would admit no liability, Rawles said.

Rawles told the city fathers he is attempting to get the California Division of Highways to participate in the work, which he estimated will cost $7,000 to $8,000.

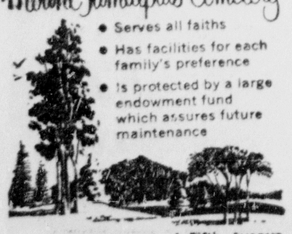

Military Base Shutdowns Plan

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges today described efforts the Kennedy administration to assist areas affected by the shutdown of military bases.

Hodges outlined the plan in a speech to a civic luncheon here.

He said that in each case of a major shutdown, such as the Benecia Arsenal in the Bay Area, a team will go out from Washington to meet with the community's leaders.

The team, Hodges said, will brief local leaders on available government assistance. It can also provide a consultant to survey local resources and develop a blueprint for future land use.

'Big 4' Team Leaves U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The diplomatic phase of President John F. Kennedy's Berlin preparedness program picks up tempo today with the departure for Paris of a U.S. team headed by Assistant Secretary of State Foy D. Kohler.

Kohler and a half dozen aides will meet with diplomatic teams from Britain, West Germany and France to do advance work on the Western Big Four foreign ministers conference to be held in Paris August 5-8. Secretary of State Dean Rusk leaves for the French capital next week.

At Paris, the Western foreign affairs chiefs will go over a broad range of the strategies aimed at keeping West Berlin out of Communist hands.

The Question Was Elementary

ELMIRA, N.Y. (AP)—An elementary school teacher here sent a note to the mother of a child who was having more than the usual amount of difficulty with subtraction.

She asked the mother to help her child at home if possible. The mother returned the note with the penciled notation, "I'd be glad to help. But which number do you subtract—the top or the bottom one?"

Lassen Forest Transfer Of Land Bill Passed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to transfer three tracts of land totaling 1,040 acres from Lassen National Forest to Lassen Volcanic National Park was passed by the Senate today and sent to the White House.

The transfer would place within the park a campground, the remainder of a park road and a tract of forest land needed for a protective strip along Lost Creek.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed higher today, running its rally through three consecutive sessions. Trading was active.

Gains of fractions to around 2 points prevailed in a broad upsweep that carried most major segments of the market to higher levels.

Advances of most key stocks went from fractions to about a point but some blue chips as well as a number of more volatile issues were ahead 2 or 3 points.

parents' responsibility to teach, "and when children do not get instruction and discipline they will act in a way to get it." He said unlawful behavior is actually a request for this help.

Busher took a swipe at newspapers. He said that the public convicts juveniles from a superficial view reflected in newspapers and that the press raises the emotions of these persons to make them "annoyed and frustrated," then they attack the government agencies handling the juveniles without looking more deeply into the cases.

He said juvenile court proceedings should not be kept secret, but they should be "confidential."

Both Garety and Miss Taylor agreed that in the latter's words, "the public is the potential victim (of the juveniles) and should have the right to know what is being done with them."

McCloy In Moscow After Nikita Talks

MOSCOW (UPI) — U. S. disarmament adviser John J. McCloy returned to Moscow today from a Black Sea holiday as the guest of Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

McCloy refused to disclose Khrushchev's reaction to President John F. Kennedy's call for increased military preparedness to meet what he said are Communist threats not only in Berlin but worldwide. The Moscow press railed against what it called war hysteria in the West.

Pearls, Watch Taken From Greenbrae Home

A woman's wrist watch and a strand of pearls, worth about $420 in all, vanished from a Greenbrae home, the owner reported to sheriff's deputies yesterday.

Mrs. Sunny J. Bower of 120 Tioga Lane, Greenbrae, said the theft must have occurred on Monday while she was away from home. She apparently forgot to lock the bedroom door which leads to the garage.

Sixty percent of today's brides own their own dinner flatware before they say "I do." Half of this flatware is stainless steel, says a steel research expert.

OBITUARIES

Ella Crevier Succumbs In Hospital

Mrs. Ella Crevier, 46, a resident of San Anselmo for 16 years, died yesterday in a local hospital after a short illness.

Mrs. Crevier is survived by her husband, Harold J. Crevier, who operates a maintenance supply sales business from the family home at 1537 San Anselmo Avenue; a son and two daughters, Warren Crevier, Mrs. Barbara Catteyson and Judy Crevier of San Anselmo; three brothers and two sisters, Dr. David Schmidt of Corte Madera, Ray Schmidt of San Francisco, Victor Schmidt of San Jose, Mrs. Emma Kenny of Palo Alto and Mrs. Lydia Foy of Los Angeles, and one grandchild.

She was born in Fresno and resided in San Francisco before moving to San Anselmo. She was a member of the Young Ladies Institute of St. Anselm's Catholic Parish.

Requiem Mass will be celebrated for Mrs. Crevier at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at St. Anselm's Church, with the cortege forming at 9 a.m. at Chapel of the Hills in San Anselmo. The Rosary will be recited at the funeral chapel at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow. Interment will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

CORA MONZINGO

The ashes of Mrs. Cora M. Monzingo, 79, of 319 Molino Avenue, Mill Valley, will be inurned at Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno, her attorney announced today.

Attorney Thomas C. Nelson of San Rafael said no funeral services will be held, at Mrs. Monzingo's request.

Mrs. Monzingo died in a local hospital Monday after a long illness. She was the widow of John J. Monzingo, a Western Union engineer.

Nelson said there were no children and apparently no brothers and sisters.

Mrs. Monzingo was born in Sacramento. She had been a member of the Mill Valley Outdoor Art Club for many years.

MARY CONNOLLY

A Requiem High Mass for Miss Mary J. Connolly, 68, former Marin resident, will be celebrated tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. at St. Anne's Church, San Francisco.

Miss Connolly died in a San Francisco hospital after a seven-week illness. She was born in San Rafael in 1893 and moved to San Anselmo in 1906. In 1918 she moved to San Francisco where she had lived since.

She is survived by a brother, William N. (Will) Connolly, a San Francisco sports writer, and a sister, Frances Connolly, of San Francisco.

The Rosary will be today at 8 p.m. at the Chapel of Carew and English, San Francisco. Interment will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

STELLA McGEORGE

Private funeral services for Mrs. Stella L. McGeorge, 67, who died Monday night at her home at 1010 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, after long illness, were held yesterday at Harry M. Williams Mortuary.

Mrs. McGeorge was the wife of Roy McGeorge, a carpet layer. She was born in Nebraska, but had resided for 45 years in California and for 15 years in Marin County.

She was a member of the Santa Rosa Christian Church.

Surviving are her husband; a daughter, Mrs. Helen L. Castro of San Rafael; a sister, Mrs. Hattie Fiscus of Delta, Colo., and three grandchildren.

EUNICE LANDO

Funeral services for Mrs. Eunice Lando, wife of Ellis A. Lando, Sausalito industrialist, will be held at 4:30 p.m. tomorrow at Russell and Gooch chapel in Mill Valley. She died unexpectedly Tuesday night in her home in Mill Valley.

Mrs. Lando was secretary of her husband's company, Lando Products, Inc.

Besides her husband, she leaves two stepsons, Donald E. Lando of San Rafael and Zane A. Lando of Mill Valley, and two sisters, Mrs. Eula Steele of Santa Rosa and Mrs. Ruth Hanson of Houston, Tex. She also leaves five grandchildren.

JAMES ENGLAND

Funeral services were scheduled this afternoon in Lakeport for James L. England, 74, who died Tuesday in a Lakeport rest home after a long illness.

He was a brother of Mrs. Elma Dobert and Mrs. Irene Mueffer of Novato. He also leaves his wife, Isabelle; three daughters, two sons, another sister, a brother, 16 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

W. H. HOSKINSON

Funeral services for William H. Hoskinson, 36, of Novato will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Redwood Chapel in Novato, with interment in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

Hoskinson, who resided at 436 Calle De La Mesa, died unexpectedly late Tuesday at a local hospital.

He was a corporal in the Marine Corps in World War II and the Korean War. He had lived in Novato for the past year and was employed as an orthopedic brace maker at University of California Medical Center in San Francisco.

Hoskinson is survived by his wife, Eva Elizabeth; three daughters, Mrs. Barbara Jackson, Edith Loud and Carol Hoskinson; five sons, Richard Loud and Daniel, Dale, Douglas and Billy Hoskinson.

East Africa's prehistoric men did not hunt large animals, making do with tortoises, birds, rats, ducks and flamingos. They ate raw meat, not having learned to make or use fire.

Leake Criticizes U.S. Aid Program

PETALUMA (UPI) — Paul Leake, publisher of the Woodland Democrat and member of the State Board of Equalization today called for a "long overdue overhaul" in America's foreign-aid program.

Leake charged that under both political parties 86 billion dollars in foreign aid has been handled with indifference, waste and inefficiency.

Speaking before a Rotarians meeting, he pointed to roads constructed in Southeast Asia which lead nowhere, two dams in Afghanistan which have yet to power a single electric light.

"Our plows and tractors rust in Ethiopia. We gave refrigerators to the Eskimos."

Scientist Pleads For Education

STANFORD (AP) — The chairman of Massachusetts Institute of Technology said today the nation needs to double its number of scientists, regardless of the cold war, and that experiments show the educational process can be speeded up to accomplish this.

J. R. Killian Jr. told the Cubberly Conference on Education about experiments which have demonstrated that a child's capacity to learn and thrive under instruction has been grossly underestimated.

He said youngsters proved they were able to absorb the accelerated subject matter in physics, math, biology and chemistry, adding:

"I suspect it will work in English and history and any other subject you may choose."

Killian's topic was science and engineering, but he pleaded improvement of education of all types.

Discrimination Denied Of 'Cadillac Farmer'

BIG FLAT, N.Y. (UPI) — Officials denied today that farmer William C. Smith was being persecuted for his outspoken views on the federal feed grain program.

Smith bought a $6,100 Cadillac with money he received for not growing corn. He then was fined $321.84 for growing too much wheat.

"Smith is no different from any other farmer," said Charles Warden, Chemung County representative on the New York State Conservation Committee. "He is definitely not being discriminated against."

Warden said Smith was fined for growing 7.1 acres of wheat over his allotted 18.9 acres in 1960.

"He claimed at first he didn't grow any wheat," Warden said, "but when he filed for the retired corn acreage he said he had grown 26 acres of wheat."

Sen. Kenneth Keating (R-N.Y.) yesterday asked the Agriculture Department to look into Smith's case. He particularly wanted the number of similar cases on file and the number of cases where the government did not prosecute.

"It would be most unfortunate if this step has been taken as retribution for Mr. Smith's efforts to dramatize the foolishness of the feed grain legislation," Keating said.

Smith received $6,712 for retiring 104 acres of corn last year. He took the Cadillac to Washington to emphasize his objections to the feed grain program.

Petaluman Hurt In Car Smashup

A 27-year-old Petaluma man suffered severe cuts on his head and forehead early today when his car struck an embankment along Atherton Avenue near Highway 37 in Black Point.

The California Highway Patrol reported that Gordon Thompson apparently fell asleep while driving about 2:30 a.m. His car crossed the road to hit the embankment.

Thompson was reported in good condition today at Novato General Hospital.

Gate Bridge Rail Traffic Report Due

The long-awaited report by a Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District consultant on the feasibility of rail traffic beneath the span's motor vehicle deck will be presented at a special meeting of the district's board at 10:30 a.m. Monday.

It will be in the form of a review and analysis of a San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District report on engineering feasibility, and will be presented by Clifford E. Paine, chief designer of the bridge.

The report concludes a four-month study by Paine of a survey made for the rapid transit district by C. H. Gronquist, New York consulting engineer.

The public meeting will be in the bridge administration building at the toll plaza.

Youth Indicted In Auto Theft

An 18-year-old youth from Santa Clara County, held in Marin County Jail on suspicion of car theft, was indicted last night by the federal grand jury in San Francisco on a charge of transporting a stolen car over state lines.

Richard D. Auerbach, special agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation office in San Francisco, identified the suspect as Paul Eugene Dunnigan, 18, of Campbell. Dunnigan was indicted under the Dyer Act and is being held in Marin for the United States Marshal.

The FBI said Dunnigan is suspected of stealing a car in Reno, swapping the Nevada license plates with stolen California plates, and driving into Marin County on July 19. He was caught in Fairfax by Marin sheriff's deputies.

Cooley Trial Tells Of Wife's Affair

BAKERSFIELD (AP) A nurse testified today that slain Ella Mae Cooley once said she'd had an affair with western star Roy Rogers.

But the nurse, testifying at the murder trial of former western bandleader Spade Cooley, said she didn't believe the story.

Cooley is charged with beating and stomping Ella Mae to death during a quarrel.

The nurse, Dorothy Davis, a prosecution witness, said Ella Mae told her seven or eight years ago, on four or five different occasions, that she had an affair with Rogers.

"Ella Mae ran away because of the affair," she said, adding that Cooley went to Texas and brought her back.

Cooley's attorney asked if Cooley "beat a confession out of her."

The nurse said no.

Car Theft In Novato

Barbara D. Zelph of 26 Palm Lane, Novato, reported to sheriff's officers yesterday her 1960 Prinz automobile was stolen during the night from the driveway of her home. She said the key had been left in the ignition.

Santa Fe President Wants Competition

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ernest S. Marsh, Santa Fe Railroad president, declared today the economically expanding area served by Western Pacific "cannot be deprived" of competition between two strong rail systems.

Marsh outlined his railroad's case in the Interstate Commerce Commission hearing on rival bids by Southern Pacific and Santa Fe to take over Western Pacific control.

The Southern Pacific completed yesterday eight days of testimony backing its claim that SP control would achieve economies by consolidating operations on largely paralleling SP and WP lines.

Marsh, in the opening day of Santa Fe's inning before ICC Examiner Paul C. Albus, said the history of rail development in California and the West showed that every move providing rail competition had helped the region's economy.

"In my opinion, the present attempt by the SP to reverse a large part of these gains is contrary to the public interest," Marsh said.

He stated Santa Fe wanted to maintain the present rigorous competition between SP and Western Pacific on routes to the Utah gateways and to the Pacific Northwest.

He said: "It is in our own interest and the public interest, as well, to make Western Pacific the strongest competitor we know how, both east and west and north and south."

"We intend to pay a fair and reasonable price for the stock of the company. The Western Pacific is willing to accept our proposition," Marsh went on.

"It is our opinion that forces of free competitive enterprise should operate here in the interest of the Santa Fe, the public, national defense and the future growth and development of the West."

Marsh said Santa Fe's entry into the control struggle had been triggered by Southern Pacific's surprise move last October. SP then announced its control application and reported it had bought 10 per cent of WP's outstanding stock.

Marsh said Santa Fe's higher stock offer was based on judging Santa Fe's vital interest in protecting its competitive position in the San Francisco area.

"Obviously there is no formula for putting precise money value on the detriment to the Santa Fe of having Western Pacific come under Southern Pacific control," Marsh said.

Insurance Whitewash Is Charged

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assemblyman Bruce F. Allen (R-Los Gatos) charged today that the administration was attempting to "whitewash" an insurance contract signed by Joseph M. Farber, director of veterans affairs.

In a news release, Allen said that two bills he introduced have been "quietly reassigned" by the assembly rules committee to the committee on finance and insurance and taken from the military and veterans affairs committee.

"These bills have been assigned by speaker (Ralph M.) Brown during the session to the committee on military and veterans affairs and were heard by that committee which decided to undertake an interim study of the whole affair," said Allen.

But he said the rules committee, after first referring both bills to the military and veterans committee for interim study, withdrew this assignment and sent them to the finance and insurance committee.

"This move is plainly designed to squelch the investigation at the start by taking it away from a committee which is interested and placing it in the hands of a committee which is not interested and which is obviously friendly to . . . the administration," Allen charged.

Farber awarded the state's Cal-Vet fire insurance contract to the relatively small National American Insurance Co. of Los Angeles last year for a five-year period. Previously, it had been granted to a combine of nearly 300 insurance companies in the state.

Investigation On In Shooting Case

The district attorney's office today was investigating reports that a Marin City man tried to shoot his wife yesterday morning.

Judy Johnson of 89 Cole Drive, Apartment 9, Marin City, called for help about 5:30 a.m. yesterday. She told investigators her husband, Johnnie Frank Johnson, about 22, had tried to shoot her near Juanita's Galley in Sausalito. Sheriff's deputies turned the case over to Sausalito police.

Yesterday, Johnson appeared at the district attorney's office and denied he had tried to shoot his wife. Deputy Dist. Atty. Thomas T. Storer said no charge had been filed as of this morning, pending further investigation.

Trucker Speeding Arrests Increased

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The highway patrol today reported it has arrested 67 per cent more truckers for speeding this year than last.

In the first six months of 1961, the patrol reported, officers arrested 15,284 truckers for speeding. In the same period last year the total was 9,147.

Family Lives For 18 Days In Wilderness

REDDING (AP) — A San Diego family lived 18 days in wild forest country by using survival methods taught Navy fliers, it was learned today.

Dale Smith, 32, recently discharged as a Navy engineman second class; his wife, Kerry, 30, and their three children made the test.

The family obtained a camp fire permit July 6 and entered the Yolla Bolla section of the Shasta Trinity National Forest.

Smith had planned to spend 25 days in the forest. But he learned the bear season in the area was closed and he moved to the Six Rivers National Forest.

"It was rough going the first four days, and we were ready to give up the test when I shot and killed a bear," Smith said.

The family lived on bear meat, grass, herbs and wild berries.

Smith said he had lost eight pounds, but his wife gained three.

Parents Told To Get Tough On TV Viewing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A member of the president's cabinet today urged parents to get tough with children who sit endlessly watching crime and violence on television.

Abraham Ribicoff, secretary of health, education and welfare, said it was his deep belief that mothers and fathers bear the chief responsibility for forming childrens' TV tastes.

"A child watches what he is permitted to watch, and listens to what he is permitted to listen to," Ribicoff told a Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee.

TV VIOLENCE

"Parents must learn to get tough with themselves and their children, as well as with the television industry," he said.

Ribicoff testified after subcommittee chairman Thomas J. Dodd, (D-Conn.), charged that broadcasting companies and TV producers have not tried to rid the screen of brutality and sadism.

He said networks programmed violence to compete for viewers attention. "Thus violence begets violence," Dodd said.

He said evidence submitted by Dr. Albert Bandura of Stanford University showed that children who watch adult violence on the screen display twice as much aggression immediately thereafter as other children.

'NONSENSE'

"I believe the time has come to stop this nonsense," Dodd said.

Ribicoff said more detailed research is necessary before we can say for sure whether beatings, robberies and murders "which darken our television screen" are harmful to young people.

"Let's be perfectly frank about it," the secretary said. "We cannot say with certainty that a bad program causes a child to do bad things, or that a good program guides him towards better things."

Ribicoff said he could not blame television for all social evils.

Millmen's Union Gets New Officers

Vernon Lange will be installed as president of Millmen's Union 2095 at a meeting of the local at 8 p.m. on Aug. 15 in Carpenters' Hall, San Rafael.

Other newly elected officers of the union were installed at the July meeting, but Lange was absent because of sickness. Chosen to serve with him were: Charles Peope, vice president; Harry Newton, financial secretary; Hans Regel, recording secretary; Tex Johnson, business representative; Len Smith, warden, and Benjamin Cooper, conductor.

Revised Woodland Avenue Assessment District Approved

Property Owners' Share Reduced By 10 Per Cent

San Rafael's Woodland Avenue Assessment District was given the go-ahead last night with sidewalks eliminated from the north side of the street and curbs on that side lowered to permit off-street parking at any point.

The revisions will reduce by 10 per cent the property owners' $33,585 share of the estimated $128,831 project, which includes street improvements, curbs and gutters, drainage and sanitary sewer installations. It covers 2,500 feet of Woodland Avenue running east from Irwin Street.

The city's share of the total is $18,248. Bret Harte storm-drain funds will provide $34,985. The San Rafael Sanitation District will pay $42,013.

Sale of bonds to finance the district was awarded to Mason Brothers of San Francisco. That firm's bid of 98 per cent of par for the 15-year bonds, with interest at 5½ per cent, was the best of nine received, reported John Holtom of Kirkbride, Wilson, Harzfeld and Wallace of San Mateo, the assessment district attorneys. Mason Brothers barely edged J. B. Hanauer and Co. of Los Angeles, who offered par plus a $463 premium, but with interest at six per cent.

Decision to eliminate the north sidewalks followed a suggestion by former Mayor E. W. Culver, a resident and property owner within the district. Culver said his house is the only residence on the north side of the street, the rest of the land being in industrial use or vacant. Industries need to be able to drive trucks in, and don't need sidewalks, he pointed out, "otherwise, I think it's a good project."

Five written protests were received, and five persons spoke against features of the project at the council's hearing. All objected to sidewalks and high curbs on the north side, some adding other objections.

Thomas Stark of Redwood Factors, one of the original petitioners for the district, said he joined Culver and the protestants in believing sidewalks should be eliminated on the north side, although the petition had asked for them.

"Is there any objection to deleting the sidewalks on the north side?" asked Mayor John F. McInnis. There was none.

Councilman Charles W. Aby moved the north sidewalks be eliminated and the curb heights adjusted "for the convenience of property owners." This was voted unanimously by the four councilmen present. Fred Jensen was the absentee.

Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael was low bidder on the project when bids were opened last week. Deleting the sidewalks will necessitate negotiating a reduction in Ghilotti's $129,346 figure. Public Works Superintendent Norris Rawles was instructed by the council to do the negotiating.

Award of the contract was therefore held up until next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m., preceding the council's third budget session with department heads.

Are Ad Men Villains? 'No, No, No'

NEW YORK (AP)—Are advertising men lecherous, treacherous, bawdy villains — ingrates who sip martinis with shapely blondes while the supper grows cold on the family stove over in suburbia?

"No, no, no," the man in the gray flannel suit screamed back today. "If you think so you've been reading too many novels. We love our wives."

Madison Avenue made known its feeling in an article called "Do Ad Men Make Good Mates?" in the trade organ "Printers' Ink."

The article said 90 per cent of 383 advertising men surveyed felt their marriages were happy.

So modest were the replies, in fact, that only 10 per cent claimed they were excellent husbands. More than 70 per cent said they were good mates and 18 per cent called themselves fair partners.

More significant, perhaps, was the 31 per cent who indicated wistfully that they would like to be better mates.

A large number found their wives warm and considerate.

"My wife is afraid that job demands, such as customer entertainment, are likely to make me an alcoholic," a husband said.

"We tend to marry more intelligent, better-educated women, confine them to a suburban Alcatraz to a life of penal servitude and then wonder why they are not deliriously happy," one ad man said.

Uprooted Trees Get Expert Care

Four sidewalk trees, uprooted sometime Monday night from their planter boxes at Fourth and A Streets in San Rafael, were being nursed back to health today by the city's green thumb experts.

The uprooted trees were discovered early yesterday by Walter Mick, street maintenance crew foreman. Reports from the department of public works indicated the patients were recovering.

Four Marin Artists Get Awards

Works of four Marin County artists have been selected and given awards in the first California Craftsmen exhibit on display at the Oakland Art Museum, 10th and Fallon Streets.

The artists are Ida Grae, Mill Valley weaver; Rosalind Watkin, San Anselmo weaver; June Schwarcz, Sausalito enamelist, and Arthur Carpenter, Bolinas furniture designer.

Their works are among 200 pieces selected by a jury out of 1,800 entries for the exhibit, which will be presented biannually hereafter to show the best work of California craftsmen.

Because they received merit awards, the work of the four artists will be sent on to be exhibited in New York City at the Museum of Contemporary Crafts.

Government Employees Get 'Button Lip' Code

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Federal employees, from cabinet officers to janitors, have been given a new code of ethics by the White House to help them avoid conflict of interest violations.

The new code, issued by the White House yesterday, included a special section dealing with "protection of information."

The section said:

"Employes may not disclose official information without either appropriate general or specific authority under agency regulations."

Another special section of the code, ordered by President John F. Kennedy and prepared by the Civil Service Commission, said:

"Employees may not, directly or indirectly, make use of, or permit others to make use of, information not made available to the general public, for the purpose of furthering private interest."

Essentially, the code seeks to eliminate potential conflict of interest, whether real or only apparent, among presidential appointees and civil service workers.

Among its suggestions:

Federal employees may teach, write and lecture outside their jobs provided they do not use government information which is not available to others, at least on request.

Federal workers may have outside jobs provided they do not use government information which is not available to others, at least on request.

No employee should accept gifts, gratuities, or favors which might be interpreted by others as possibly affecting his impartiality or official action.

Federal workers may not engage in outside financial transactions in conflict with their duties or based upon information obtained through their government employment.

Retired City Policeman Under Fire

Former San Francisco Policeman Frank Van Dervort, a former resident of Fairfax, was under the gun again yesterday of the San Francisco Retirement Board.

The board adopted a new regulation which could force some policemen retired on disability to explain incomes and give the city back anything beyond what the city allows them to make. Board secretary Dan Mattrocce said it may be $10,000 in Van Dervort's case.

Van Dervort pension payments were halted last month when he declined to testify before the board.

Policemen and firemen who are retired on disability pensions are not allowed to take other employment which in addition to their pension would give them more income than they made working for the city.

Until last April Van Dervort was drawing $40 per month in pension, and as district area manager for a nationally known brewing company made another $480 net a month. These figures were revealed in a suit for divorce filed against him in Marin Superior Court by Dorothy Van Dervort June 14.

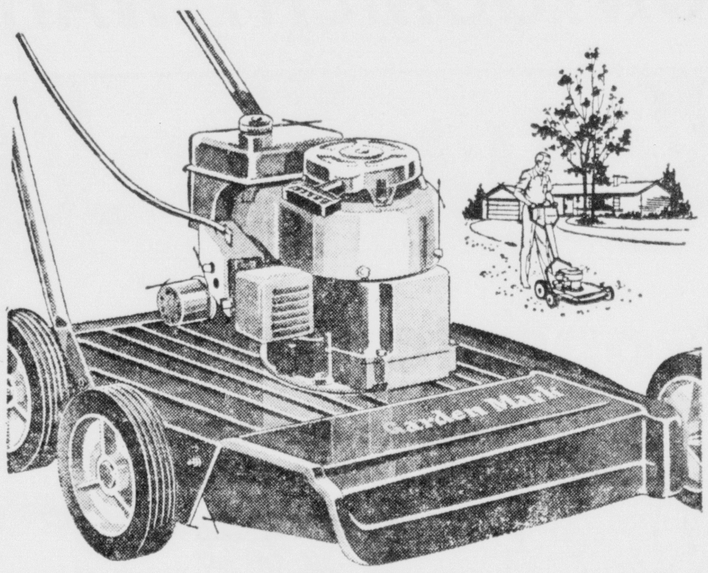

July 6, Van Dervort was ordered by the court to pay $410 of his $688.80 per month income to his wife, of 12 San Gabriel Court, Fairfax.

CASTRO BURNED IN EFFIGY

A group of students from the School of Economy of the National University of Mexico at Mexico City burned an effigy of Fidel Castro yesterday morning in front of their school. Pro-Castroites tried unsuccessfully to interfere and several clashes were reported. (AP Wirephoto)

Plane Swap Proposed By Castro

HAVANA (AP)—Cuba Premier Fidel Castro said yesterday he would return the Eastern Air Lines plane hijacked by an armed passenger Monday if the United States promises to return to Cuba any planes that might be seized and flown to the United States in the future.

A number of Cuban planes hijacked and flown to the United States have been seized to satisfy a legal judgment against the Castro government.

Castro denied any responsibility for the hijacking of the American plane off its Miami-to-Tampa run. He said such an act "is against our principles and would just be giving an excuse to imperialism for launching an attack against us."

He denounced Cubans fleeing to the United States as "parasites and worms" hoping to find "their old exclusive and aristocratic clubs." But he indicated they could continue to flee.

Castro Announces Single Cuban Party

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba today winds up a mammoth four-day celebration of the eighth anniversary of Fidel Castro's first attempted revolution highlighted by Castro's announcement that all Cuban organizations will be merged into a single "United Party of Cuba's Socialist Revolution."

Castro's announcement had been predicted several weeks ago and observers in the United States said the single party, when it is formed, would be dominated by the Communists.

The prime minister made his announcement during a 3½-hour speech before hundreds of thousands of Cubans who wildly cheered him and Soviet spaceman Yuri Gagarin.

The Soviet major denounced the United States and pledged to Cuba "the armed help of the Soviet people."

Castro followed Gagarin to the platform as the crowd shouted "down the Caimanera"—the Cuban name for the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay.

The prime minister first attacked the U.S. press for predicting he would mark the 26th of July anniversary by announcing plans for a single political organization. A few minutes later, he told the crowd Cuba was headed toward one over-all Socialist party embracing all organizations in the island country—military, political, labor and others.

Castro did not say when such a party would be proclaimed but indicated its formation would be gradual.

Farmers put about 400 man-hours into producing an acre of tobacco—more than for any other field crop.

Cubans Have Rationing Problem—Lacking Lard

HAVANA (AP)—The key word in Cuba today is "manteca." Translated from the Spanish it means lard, or fats.

Manteca—or lack of it—has presented Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime with a sticky problem. For the first time in its 2½-year history, the regime has had to impose rationing.

Families are restricted to one pound of lard and one pound of cooking oil monthly for each person above the age of one year. This is going to hurt. Cubans normally consume an extraordinarily large amount of fat.

The government places the blame on "American economic aggression" for the present embarrassing situation, claiming the United States is maintaining an unannouced embargo against exports of lard to Cuba. The United States has traditionally been the sole supplier of Cuba, selling this country 98,000 tons a year.

Shipments of lard from the United States have ceased or practically ceased. Some, however, suspect that Cuba's dollar shortage may have as much to do with this as any real or imagined embargo.

Shortages have been cropl ping up all over the place in Cuba in the last several months, as the U.S. embargo on most exports sinks in. But none has caused such consternation as the lard shortage.

Cuban people like their food fried, so they use a lot of fat—many times the one pound monthly now allotted. They also like to douse certain foods, for instance rice and salads, with vegetable oil.

The government says the shortage will be over in 18 months. It is feverishly building up the country's pig stocks, mostliy by imports from Canada.

Drunken Drivers Get Fines, Jail

Two drunken drivers were fined, and another sentenced to a jail term yesterday by Judge Leonard A. Thomas in Marin Municipal Court.

Ozie Hockett, 42, of San Francisco, unemployed, drew 15 days jail because he could not pay a fine. If he finds work, he has work furlough privileges during the 15 days. Hockett must remain on six months probation. He was caught on Highway 101 last Wednesday.

Herbert Joseph McPalmer, 37, of 364 Peachstone Terrace, Marinwood, must pay $132 fine and remain on six months probation. Police caught him at Fourth and Irwin Streets in San Rafael on June 9.

Lucien Elliott Sampson, 41, of San Francisco drew $158 fine and six months probation. Sampson was caught on Highway 101 last Saturday.

Truck-Train Crash

A Santa Rosa truck driver, Cornelius R. Mahoney, 18, suffered head injuries in a truck-train crash Tuesday at the Windsor Road crossing of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks near Santa Rosa. Engineer of the train was Charles R. Hiatt, 54, of Sausalito. He said the truck stalled on the track and he was unable to stop the train in time.

AERIAL VIEW OF CAVE-IN

This aerial view shows area affected by Northwestern Pacific Railroad tunnel cave-in on San Rafael's Lincoln Avenue. In foreground is Highway 101. Cave-in shows black near apartment house at right. Bulldozers had dragged dirt across Lincoln Avenue at left of cave-in during excavation to get out the body of Alto fireman Frank Kinsler. Outbound (lower) lane of Lincoln Avenue has since been opened. Public Works Supt. Norris Rawles is seeking agreement with Northwestern Pacific and California Division of Highways for widening Lincoln Avenue on its east (lower) side to provide two additional traffic lanes so inbound autos can again use the route into San Rafael. Peace Corps Gets Marin Teacher

There'll be a new teacher in Lucas Valley School's first grade in September because Betty Anderson will be serving in the Peace Corps in the British West Indies.

The Peace Corps today announced selection of Miss Anderson as one of 16 volunteers assigned for training for an agricultural assistance and teacher training project on the island of St. Lucia. She is to report for training next Tuesday at Iowa State College, Ames, Iowa.

Miss Anderson, who was born in Pontiac, Mich., and attended high school in Indianapolis, has been a teacher in Dixie School District since 1958, first at Santa Margarita and then at Lucas Valley School.

She received her B.S. degree and teaching credential from San Francisco State College in 1958, after having been a telephone company service representative, a medical receptionist, and working in an insurance company's claims department.

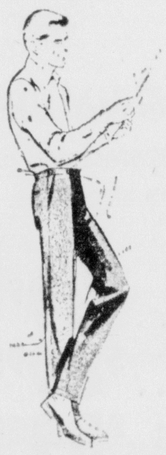

This summer she has been in Arlington, Va.—close to Washington whence her selection for the Peace Corps was reported today by Rep. Clem Miller (D-Corte Madera).

One of the earliest records of giving is the Hammurabic Code, written about 2,000 B.C. and urging that "justice be done to widows, orphans, and the poor."

TRAVELING IN (1930) STYLE

Two youths from Los Angeles, Ron Marland, 19, (out front), and Steele Oman, 18, pause in Wichita, Kan., about midway yesterday in 3,800-mile jaunt to Syracuse, N.Y., in their good-as-new rebuilt Model A Ford. They hit 40 miles an hour and get 25 to 30 miles per gallon, they report. (AP Wirephoto)

Ludy Declares Opposition To Drake Subdivision Tied To Seashore Park

County Supervisor George Ludy of Inverness declared yesterday that opposition to the controversial Drake's Bay subdivisions was based at least partly on emotional support of the proposed national seashore on Point Reyes Peninsula—and that in his opinion it shouldn't be.

But Joel F. Gustafson of Mill Valley, president of the Point Reyes National Seashore Foundation, voiced the view that this issue "did not color the vote" of the planning commission in turning down developer Benjamin Bonelli's tentative maps for two new units.

Bonelli, who has been before planners or supervisors almost daily of late in a battle for approval of the maps, decided at an end-of-day public hearing before the supervisors yesterday that he would reserve full presentation of his case for 2 p.m. next Tuesday.

Planning Director Mary Summers and two staff members were on hand yesterday. Chairman William D. Fusselman held Mrs. Summers to "facts, not your opinions."

Mrs. Summers started with a statement of planning commission action in rejecting the maps, but Bonelli speedily objected that some of the technicalities were being misrepresented.

"We have no controversy with the health department," said Bonelli with regard to water arrangements, indicating agreement had been reached on a basis of subdivisions already approved. As to private roads in the subdivision, Bonelli insisted he similarly had agreement with Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham, who wouldn't have jurisdiction and had said they need not be indicated on the maps.

Fusselman then suggested that as Brigham is on vacation this week, no decision be reached until next Tuesday.

"What is the major difference between these subdivisions and those approved last year?" asked Ludy. "They are identical as to location, soil conditions and so on . . . On final analysis there's absolutely no difference."

"If what you're operating with already is operating satisfactorily," Fusselman told Bonelli, "I can't see why there was non-approval (by planners)."

A short time later Ludy brought in the national seashore issue by suggesting there had been influence on the planning commission due to enthusiasm over the seashore.

"I want to make the statement," Ludy went on, "that we as a board of supervisors recommended 20,000 acres (as against a 53,000-acre seashore) and that doesn't encompass this at all."

Harold Sauerbrei, former sports writer, is the new business manager of the Cleveland Browns football team.

Only 12 Novatans Voice Plans Opinion

A Novato planning meeting announced as a chance for citizens to voice opion on a coming city master plan drew only 12 persons to the Novato City Hall last night.

Planning commissioners set Aug. 30 as the date for beginning final study sessions on the plan. At least three official public hearings are required after completion and before city adoption.

Suggestions last night were limited to:

San Jose Boulevard — D. P. Henderson of Marin Golf and Country Club Estates asked that the future San Jose Boulevard extension be planned to save trees in the area and keep away from the golf course. Planning Commission Chairman Harley McAskill appointed Alfred Bellucci and Howard Schoof as a committee to study the proposal with residents of Country Club Estates.

Black Point — Ernest Schallinger, president of the Black Point Improvement Club, requested that any industrial zoning be kept at least a mile southwest of Atherton Avenue and Highway 37.

The suggestion, if followed, would just about halve the present industrial zone shown on the county master plan. Black Point is outside the Novato City limits, but city commissioners are planning for the area and could recommend such a move to the county.

Planning commissioners Robert G. Johnson and Henry Kaehler were appointed to study the proposal with Black Point residents.

The meeting was closed after less than an hour of comments. "You'll get the complaints later on," said spectator Rev. Ole Winter.

'Teahouse' Tryouts Tonight In Novato

Tryouts for the play "Teahouse of the August Moon," the next production of the Novato players, will be held tonight and tomorrow at the Novato Community Club House.

Scott Wright will direct the cast of almost 30 persons in the play, which has only six English-speaking parts. The remainder of the parts are spoken in "Okinawan" to be translated by Sakini, the mischievous interpreter.

The play will run Sept. 22, 23 and 29, 30 at the club house, 906 Machin Street. Tryouts are open to the public, as spectators or participants.

Firefighting Escapee Nabbed

Leon A. Hurd, 20, San Quentin Prison convict firefighter who escaped from a fire line in the Santa Cruz mountains Monday, was captured yesterday in Fresno County.

Dale B. Frady, associate warden at the prison, said prison officials received a teletyped message today at 1 a.m. from M.A. Willmirth, Fresno County sheriff, stating Hurd had been captured. No other details were given.

Hurd, serving a term for attempted burglary in San Joaquin County, was a member of the prison's Mendocino Camp fire-fighting crew.

Waterfront Deadline Set By Planners In Sausalito

The Sausalito Planning Commission last night set Aug. 23 for reaching a final recommendation to the city council regarding the central waterfront area.

On that night the commission's waterfront committee, headed by Robert Nissen, is to make its report.

Last night commission chairman Paul Micou summarized the conflicting proposals made so far. These include the suggestion of the Sausalito Yacht Club that a breakwater be built to include a public promenade.

Numerous letters have backed the so-called minority plan of commissioner Charles E. Finney urging that the central area be predominantly park.

Art Exhibition In Corte Madera

Landscape and still life paintings of Santa Venetia's artist Dorothy Sayer of 107 Vendola Drive will be on display for a month, starting Saturday at Tia's Gallery and Coffee Shop, 60 Corte Madera Avenue, Corte Madera.

Mrs. Sayers, who not only paints but also works in ceramics and stained glass, recently finished the stained glass windows of the Presbyterian Church in Santa Venetia. The job took her almost a year.

Mrs. Sayer will have a show at the Little Gallery in Kirkland, Wash., in November. She recently returned from six weeks of painting in the Rogue River Valley of Oregon. She also teaches painting in Terra Linda and San Rafael.

Thirteen rookies played football with the Cleveland Browns in 1960.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

2:55 p.m., Mill Valley—Grass fire between railroad tracks and back fence at 22 Azalia Drive; put out by Mill Valley and Alto firemen; no damage.

3:23 p.m., Marin County—Incinerator check at Jewel cottages on west side of Camp Taylor off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

5:30 p.m., Mill Valley—Bonfire behind 36 Fairway Drive; tree trunk smouldering when firemen arrived; no damage. Three children, 8, 9 and 11, summoned to firehouse today to be reprimanded.

TODAY:

7:48 a.m., Marin County—False report of fire near Tamarancho Boy Scout Camp; caused by fog or drifting smoke from fireplace.

New 'Summit' May Be Near For Laotians

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—The royal Laotian government announced today that Premier Prince Boun Oum will accept neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma's invitation to a new Laotian "summit" meeting even if the Pro-Communist Pathet Lao faction boycotts the talks.

The announcement by the pro-western government backed Souvanna into a corner where he must either torpedo his own plan for summit talks or split openly with fellow rebels of "Red Prince" Souphanouvong.

It said Boun Oum would go to Pnom Penh, capital of Cambodia, soon to seek the start of a new "three princes" conference regardless of whether Souphanouvong is willing to attend.

The Pathet Lao chieftain has been holding out for a conference of the leaders of the three contending Laos factions at Ban Namone, Laos.

Teamsters Turn Down Contract Bid

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Teamster locals in Marin and other Northern California counties last night rejected a three-year contract offer which had been supported by union President James R. Hoffa.

The offer by employers called for a 20-cent hourly pay increase, including five cents in fringe benefits. The vote against it was 3,715 to 1,581.

Hoffa, here for the negotiations, denied that the vote was a rejection of his leadership. "This was an economic question alone," he said.

Short haul drivers in the Bay Area locals earlier rejected Hoffa's offer to bargain in the major western negotiations and negotiated on their own.

The Bay Area locals today began work on a new set of contract proposals for submission to employers following membership approval. Members at the same time will vote on giving negotiators sanction to call a strike.

Involved were teamsters in San Francisco, southern Sonoma, Alameda, Santa Clara, San Benito, Contra Costa, Monterey, Napa, Solano, Mendocino and Lake counties, including Bay Area office workers.

San Anselmo Girl, 16 Injured In 2-Car Crash

Janice Ann Catey, 16, of 95 Park Drive, San Anselmo, was treated at Marin General Hospital for injuries to her right knee and shoulder suffered in a two-car accident at 11:45 a.m. yesterday in the Corte Madera Shopping Center parking lot.

Henrietta MacGee Rhame, 44, of 276 Arias Street, San Rafael, driver of the other car, was not injured, according to Corte Madera police. No citation was issued.

EVEN ROYALTY MUST EAT — California Dairy Princess Marilyn Jacobs of Santa Rosa interrupts royal duties at Guernsey dairy cattle barbecue at Sonoma County Fair to sink her pearly teeth into a chicken leg.

Novato Aggie Dominates Junior Beef Division At Sonoma Fair

SANTA ROSA—Sandra Pronzini, a Novato Aggies Four-H Club exhibitor, dominated the Four-H beef division in junior livestock judging at the Sonoma County Fair, which will wind up Saturday.

Showing Herefords, Miss Pronzini captured the champion female, the senior, junior and summer yearling, had a second place ribbon and wound up winning the showmanship award.

Her brother, Jon Pronzini, of the same club, took two second and two third ribbons and third in showmanship. Terry Tomasini of Nicasio was winner in the special class for 13 years and under and had two third places in general showing. Ron Lear of Novato has a second in judging and was second in the special class. Stephen Schmidt of Novato Valley Four-H had a third place.

Thirty-nine Marin County Four-H Club exhibitors, 35 of them from Novato, are on the Sonoma County Fairgrounds showing their beef, sheep and swine preparatory to the annual Junior Livestock Auction scheduled tomorrow.

Marin interest is high in this year's auction, which has a potential of approximately 400 animals eligible to go under the hammer.

Ten Marin County buyers last year helped boost gross sales to a record $45,215.18, and have indicated similar participation this year.

First in the ring will be Martin and Mary Linda Baccaglio and Reno Romanin, from the Novato Aggie Four-H Club, with market fat hogs. In beef cattle, Marsha Baccaglio and Stephen Schwindt have paid auction fees on fat Herefords and Jerry Hogan, of Novato Valley Four-H Club, on a fat Angus. Jon and Sandra Lee Pronzini are showing Herefords, but not selling, as are Michael and Terry Tomasini. Ronald Feige and Laurie McGrath of Novato, are showing Angus.

Allen and Linden Sievers of Lagunitas, Nicasio Four-H'ers, have market sheep to hear the auctioneers' cry, as do Martin and Mary Linda Boccaglio, Jim Busher, Ben and David Ehreth, Kathy Marzell, Dick, Jim and Linda Wright, Nancy and Rosemary Bloom, Jerry and Judy Ann Hogan, Michael and Richand Lear, Diane and Glen Thorsson and Gaye Willard, all of Novato.

Showing sheep but not offering their animals for sale are Paul Clark, David and Donald Melson, Cathy and Millard Walline, Joe Panfiglio and Dan Walton, all of the Novato Aggie Four-H Club.

Bolinas-Stinson Gets School Chief

The Bolinas-Stinson Beach School District announced today James Matranga, 45, formerly of Whittier, has signed a contract at a yearly salary of $8,500 to be superintendent and teach seventh and eighth grades.

Board Chairman Arthur E. Carpenter told the board meeting last night Matranga signed the contract Sunday on a July-to-July basis. Other new teachers will serve on a September-to-September basis, he said.

Margaret McClure Will Filed —Dairy Ranches Left To Sons

Point Reyes pioneer Margaret McClure, 88, who died at her home on July 9, left two large dairy ranches to three of her sons, under a will filed for probate today in Marin Superior Court.

The 225-acre Fallon Ranch, plus dairy cattle and stock, goes to William McClure of Fallon. The Pierce Point Ranch is left to John and David McClure of Point Reyes Station.

The will, dated June 21, 1944, says that John and David McClure will get the Pierce Point Ranch, provided they pay $5,000 in cash to each of three sisters; Mrs. Annie Kilpatrick of Petaluma, Mrs. Elizabeth Small and Mrs. Helen Driscoll of San Francisco.

No provision is made in the will for son James of Point Reyes Station. Mrs. McClure's will says she had made certain gifts in the past to son James in lieu of any provision in her will.

Mrs. McClure came to Point Reyes 70 years ago with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. James Hyde, who established the ranches.

Recreation Budget

Corte Madera Parks and Recreation Commission members agreed at last night's meeting to attend the town council budget meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday. At that time the town council will consider the proposed $23,350 park and recreation budget for 1961-62.

Air France Jet In Takeoff Crash

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — An Air France jet, taking off for Tokyo by way of the polar route, crashed today with 43 persons aboard. No one was killed among the 28 passengers and 15 crew.

The airline said five passengers and three crewmen were slightly injured scrambling out of the plane.

The big Boeing 707 veered off the runway at the takeoff and crashed into a construction site.

'2 PLUS 2 NOT ALWAYS 4'

New Math Urged For Dixie School District

Two plus two doesn't always equal four and the schools are going to have to face up to it, Penrod Moss, curriculum consultant for the Dixie School District, told the district board last night.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis confirmed Moss's word and said preparations are now being made to acquaint Dixie teachers with some of the newest facts in modern mathematics, so they will be in position to clear up such things for pupils who need to know.

To teach only orthodox theory of the usual result of adding two to two may under some circumstances be "both inaccurate and an injustice to pupils in the scientific age in which we live," said Moss.

This, he said, is because four is the answer only if one is using a number system with a base of 10—but it won't work out that way if the number system has some other basis such as two, five or perhaps 12. Such things will be encountered by youngsters who advance to work in such fields as electronic computers, chemical analysis and engineering.

Willis said an "in-service program" will start at Dixie District next fall to teach the teachers to teach the "new mathematics."

Harlan Clare and Ralph W. Hoffmire of Loma Verde visited the board to explore the possibility of annexing part of the San Jose School District to Dixie District. The board took no action and indicated that no consideration could be given such a proposal until after people of the San Jose District had opportunity to vote on unification with Novato.

The board authorized Willis to hire Mrs. Lois Malone as first grade teacher for Don Timoteo School at $5,500 annually. She taught last year in Reed School District.

Also hired were: Mrs. Edna Meenan, part-time bookkeeping machine operator; Mrs. Augustine Cunningham, secretary and receptionist, and Mrs. Dorothy Johnson, as library clerk at Santa Margarita School.

49ers Boast Fastest Lineup In Club History; Camp Opens

The San Francisco 49ers began preparations for their 1961 National Football League season yesterday at Moraga and there were indications this could be the fastest 49er team ever.

Just 29 of the 49ers' 53 players were out for the opening session, but Coach Red Hickey was impressed with the rookies' speed.

Speed appeared to be the key word with the 1961 edition of the 49ers.

Gone are two great runners —Hugh McElhenny and Joe Perry. Hoping to take their places and give San Francisco its first NFL championship is a crop of the quickest young backs Hickey has had.

Singled out for special admiration was Dale Messer, a rookie 175-pounder from Fresno State.

"That kid has the fastest start I've ever seen," said Hickey. "He's off and scooting in no time flat."

Sharper and more assured was lanky Ray Norton, one of the nation's top collegiate sprinters at San Jose State, who joined the 49ers after the 1960 season began.

End Coach Billy Wilson worked with Norton this spring and Ray was grabbing passes as though some of Wilson's fine touch had rubbed off on him.

ALL-STAR GROUP

Seventeen 49er veterans are due at camp Saturday and seven Collegiate All-Stars — largest contingent of any pro club—are due after the annual game at Chicago Aug. 4.

The All-Star rookies are halfbacks Jim Johnson of UCLA and Bernie Casey of Bowling Green, fullback Cannonball Cooper of Muskingum, quarterback Bill Kilmer of UCLA, end Aaron Thomas of Oregon State, center Roland Lakes of Wichita and linebacker Carl Kammerer of University of the Pacific. All but Kammerer play offense.

Johnson, Casey and Thomas are three of the fastest football players in the country.

Halfback Lenny Lyles, who ranked second in the NFL last year in kickoff returns, was sent to St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco for an extensive heart checkup.

Lyles said he felt fine but Dr. Frank Solomon, who checked Lenny here, recommended a three-day series of tests.

Four others, tackle Everisto Nino of East Texas State, center Ernie Hansen of Arizona State (Flagstaff), tackle Bob McCreary of Wake Forest, and linebacker Bill Lopasky of West Virginia also were to take further physical exams today.

FRIEND PROVES

If At First You Don't Succeed...

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Pittsburgh's Bob Friend was living proof today that if at first you don't succeed—try again.

Friend last night not only beat the San Francisco Giants for the first time this season, 8-3, but he also singled home what proved to be the winning run and allowed just one single following the fifth inning after being hit freely during the early rounds.

The right handed veteran's effort evened the series at 1-1, and lengthened the distance between third-place San Francisco and league-leading Cincinnati to eight and one-half games.

Sam Jones (7-6) was scheduled to pitch for the Giants tonight when the two clubs conclude their three-game set. Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell (4-7) was Pittsburgh's tentative choice.

FRIEND PEPPERED

San Francisco peppered Friend with 11 hits during the first five innings last night, climaxing the early hit spree by taking a 3-0 lead in the fifth, but from then on Friend was master.

Harvey Kuenn singled with one out during the fifth and scored on Matty Alou's triple to center. Willie Mays singled home Alou, then stole second and came across on Ed Bailey's base hit.

The rally gave the Giant starter Jack Sanford a 3-0 cushion which was soon to end.

The Pirates responded in the fifth with three markers to tie it. Smokey Burgess tripled for the Bucs' first hit of the game with one out. Then Bill Mazeroski, Bill Virdon and Dick Groat all singled home tallies during the frame, which saw the exit of Sanford and the entry of rookie Dick Lemay.

Pirate fans roundly booed Manager Danny Murtaugh for permitting Friend to bat with runners on first and third and one out in the fifth. But that razzing was mild compared to protests during the sixth when Friend came to the plane with the bases loaded and two out.

But Pirate fans had to swallow their boos when Friend came through with a single to drive in Roberto Clemente and Don Hoak to make it 5-3.

That's all the support the Pirate chucker needed, although the Bucs added another trio in the eighth off another Giant rookie, Dom Zanni. Friend also contributed to the rally with another single.

LeMay was charged with the loss, his third against two victories.

SAN RAFAEL '9' PLAYS S.F. TEAM TONIGHT

Spraycraft team of San Francisco, entered in the forthcoming California State Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament in San Rafael, will play a warmup game tonight against the San Rafael Merchants at Albert Park, 8 o'clock.

The visitor's lineup includes Frank Bertaina, heralded San Francisco high school pitching star. It is not known if he will pitch tonight's game, however.

San Rafael Manager Don Lauters said his team still needs more sponsors "... if the club is to remain in San Rafael." He stated "We have six sponsors so far, but need about 10 more to continue our season."

Tomorrow night the state tournament opens its second round with the Gino Benedetti team of San Francisco playing the Hustead Blue Sox of Oakland at 6 o'clock and San Jose meeting the Oakland Oaks at 9 o'clock. The tourney will be played at Albert Park.

Marin Stars Lose In Colt Tourney

I-J SPECIAL REPORT

ATWATER—Marin County All-Stars ran into the World Champion San Jose Colts last night and came out on the short end of a 3-0 score in the opening game of the Sector Colt Baseball Tournament here. The Marinites get another chance to keep their hopes alive tonight under the "double-elimination" system when they play Westside of San Joaquin Valley at 8 o'clock. Westside lost a 5-3 game to Hawaii in last night's other opener.

San Jose, which last year went on to win the "world" title and is favored in the Sector tourney here, broke open a scoreless duel with two runs in the fifth inning last night and an insurance tally in the sixth.

Meanwhile, the winners' ace pitcher Bruce Pffeifer was limiting Marin to two singles, both by first sacker Mike Telegin in the second and fifth innings.

Pfeiffer struck out 13 and walked only two batters.

DAMAGING ERROR

Marin's starting pitcher Fred Mack pitched creditably, allowing only four hits. An error, Marin's only muff in the game, betrayed Mack in the fifth. He walked the leadoff batter, struck out the next man, got the second out on a sacrifice bunt, but then the error allowed a run to score and a following single made it 2-0 for San Jose.

In the sixth Mack lost his control as two walks and a single loaded the bags for San Jose. Here, Manager Ray Maher called on relief ace John Walker who walked the first batter to force in San Jose's third run. Walker got out of the jam on a double play.

Maher said he would start righthander Walker tonight against Westside in a "must win" situation for both teams. Two losses eliminate a team.

FEERICK HURT

Marin suffered a damaging blow last night when right-fielder John Feerick, batting star with a .400 average in his team's winning the Northwest Area tournament at Ukiah last weekend, was hit by a pitched ball and declared out of the remaining games here. He suffered a damaged blood vessel on his upper arm.

Walker goes into tonight's game with two victories and one save to his credit in tournament play at Ukiah.

The Marin Colts, aged 15-16, are composed of outstanding players from the Marin League.

Raider Star Considering Jump To NFL

SANTA CRUZ (UPI)—At least one member of the Oakland Raiders is considering jumping to the National League, it was learned today.

Jim Otto, 240-pound offensive center for the Raiders, said he is planning to play out his option with the American Football League, but then switch to an unspecified NFL team. He refused to say which team he had talked to.

Meanwhile, Raider General Manager Bud Hastings said all but three players in camp have signed contracts.

The Raiders made their first cuts yesterday lopping off five defensive men — backs Clive Bullian of San Jose State, Ed Whittle of Santa Ana College and Grover Garvin of California, plus linebackers William Bankston of the University of New Mexico and Dick Carlsen of California.

Events will start at 12:30 p.m. These youngsters above, with instructors Marita Bennett and Bud Smith, were pictured yesterday at San Pedro School. (Independent-Journal photo)

Kneeball Game To Benefit Warner Teams

Two 18-man squads — one each from Marin and Sonoma counties — were announced today for tomorrow night's third annual "Kneeball Bowl" game in Petaluma.

The game — football played by crawling on a miniature field — will benefit Pop Warner Conference football teams in Marin and Sonoma, according to Mike Hahn, sports editor of the Petaluma Argus-Courier. "Kickoff" time is 9 p.m. Admission is $1 per family, Hahn said.

Hearding the Marin squad will be the Nave brothers of the Nave Lanes bowling family — Bill Jr., Bob and Rich.

DISC JOCKEYS

The Petaluma team has added to its roster some of San Francisco radio and television personalities in hopes of luring some of their fans. They include disc jockeys Jim Lange and Al Collins of KSFO and Dick Stewart and Van Amberg of KPIX.

The two previous Kneeball games, played in Marin, ended in scoreless ties, but the Nave brothers say they have perfected an offense that should break the scoring drought.

In Kneeball all players must remain on their knees during a play. A ball carrier is considered tackled when his upper torso touches the turf. First downs are 5 instead of 10 yards; penalties are 2 and 3 yards; punts and kickoffs are made by throwing the ball.

MARIN SQUAD

Along with the Naves the Marin squad includes Bob Troppmann, athletic director of Redwood High School; Jim Baxter, former star end at California; John Butternut, Dave Crandall, George Curry, Bono Dell'Era, Jim Decker, Jim Gilmartin, Elmer Gladden, Rudy Larisch, Tom McGrath, Ken Lazzarini, Milt Schwartz and Jim Todt.

Gates will open at 8 o'clock and the game will start at 9.

Reds Cling To League Lead; Yanks Continue Homer Spree

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cincinnati came within an eyelash of slipping out of first place in the National League last night, but once again Frank Robinson came to the rescue.

Robinson's two-run homer in the eighth, following a pinch homer by Gus Bell provided a 3-2 victory over Milwaukee and staved off the onrushing Los Angeles Dodgers for at least one more day.

Norm Larker's grand slam home run converted Don Drysdale's five-hitter into a 6-1 victory over Philadelphia as the Dodgers won their eighth in the last nine starts. Drysdale was locked in a duel with Frank Sullivan, replacement for the injured Jim Owens, when Larker clouted his first grand slammer.

Pittsburgh snapped a five-game losing streak by downing San Francisco 8-3. Bob Friend, who gave up 12 hits, broke a tie with a two-out bases-loaded single in the sixth inning.

Bobby Will's pinch single off Lindy McDanield with the bases full and two out in the 12th gave the Chicago Cubs a 7-6 decision over St. Louis.

The New York Yankees hit four home runs while downing Chicago 5-2 in the American League. Detroit remained a half game back by downing Los Angeles 5-4 for Frank Lary's 14th victory. Baltimore took two from Boston 5-1 and 6-2. Minnesota outslugged Washington 10-9 and Cleveland thumped Kansas City 12-5.

Milwaukee rookie Don Nottebart, was shutting out the Reds 2-0 when Gus Bell went up to hit for Ken Johnson, Cincinnati's new pitcher from Toronto, in the eighth. Bell's homer into the right field bleachers took care of the shutout. The victory went to Johnson.

The winning spurt of the Cubs against the Cardinals started as Ron Santo singled with one out. He moved to second on an infield out and took third on a wild pitch. McDaniel then walked Ernie Banks and Ed Bouchee intentionally before Will came off the bench to win it for relief man Barney Schultz.

Shed a tear for the poor statisticians. They will be wallowing knee deep in obsolete record books if the Yankees keep hitting those home runs.

Johnny Blanchard was the latest to earn a line in the book. He hit two homers in successive turns at bat yesterday. Coupled with pinch homers Friday and Saturday in Boston, this gave Blanchard four homers on four consecutive appearances at bat. It was the 12th time it had been done. Ralph Kiner did it twice.

Mickey Mantle hit No. 39, only one behind Roger Maris' total of 40 in their exciting race to break Babe Ruth's record of 60, set in 1927.

Four Yankee homers, including one by Clete Boyer, boosted the total to 31 since the All-Star game July 11 and 155 for the season. The record for the American League is only 190, set by the 1956 Yanks.

Warner Grid Signups Set For Mill Valley

Signups for the Mill Valley Bulldogs of the Pop Warner Football Conference will be held Aug. 5, 10 a.m., at Tamalpais High School, it was announced today by Coach Larry Brink.

Nance Hero In North's 7-2 Triumph

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The jinx that shackled the feet of northern California's All-Star backs in the yearly Shrine charity football classic has been broken.

It took a 6-foot-2 powerhouse from Madera to finally make believers out of southern California football fans who had heard wonderful tales of northern backs but then became incredulous as they failed to live up to their clippings.

Kent Nance, the Madera High ace who scored 32 touchdowns as a prep last season, was on the receiving end of a record-breaking 88-yard touchdown pass play and rolled up 68 yards rushing to pace the North to a 7-2 victory last night in the 10th annual classic.

Nance, who was an almost unanimous choice for the "Player of the Game" award, thrilled the crowd of 43,902 in the Coliseum as he grabbed a pass from Craig Morton of San Jose on the 50-yard line and raced the rest of the way for the only touchdown of what was forecast as a high-scoring contest.

5.22 PER CARRY

The Madera back, who has indicated he will go to college at Brigham Young University, carried the ball 13 times and averaged 5.22 yards rushing.

The "Lineman of the Game" award went to Jim Murphy, stout center from Santa Barbara, who was last season's California Interscholastic Federation "Player of the Year."

The South, a slight favorite at game time, got its lone score in the third quarter, when end Roy Jepperson of Compton tackled Nance in the end zone after the fleet back had taken a handoff from Jim Blakeney of Hanford following reception of a punt.

Junior Olympics In S.R. Tomorrow

Annual Summer Junior Olympics sponsored by the San Rafael Recreation Department will be held tomorrow for boys and girls 8 through 15 years of age at San Rafael High School.

Events will include softball throw, running races, high jump and broad jump. Scoring will be kept and a playground championship team will be crowned. The first three place finishers in each event will be awarded a certificate.

Giant Hurlers Should Shoulder The Blame For Decline Of Club

CONNOLLY

It doesn't require an expert to define the decline of the Giants. Ordinary common sense dictates where the blame belongs—lack of pitching.

Pitching always has been, and always will be, the nerve center of a ball club. Disturb that sensitive element and all the power hitting and great defensive play of a club go right down the drain.

That has happened regularly this year to the Giants. And Alvin Dark hasn't shown himself capable enough to pin-point the weakness of his pitchers.

Every time the club has gone into a tailspin it has called for an inventory and the inventory check shows the pitchers can't carry the load.

Sam Jones, counted on as a 20-game winner, is "over the hill." Juan Marichal, another flinger regarded as indispensable, pitched too much in the off-season to be worth his salt during the regular season; Mike McCormick, hailed as the standout southpaw, is suffering, so we hear via the grapevine, from an inflated head. He refuses to pose for non-commercial pictures until he learns "how much is in it for me."

BILLY LOES, off to a great start, was penalized by fate. When his dad passed away it required a layoff right at the height of his finest form. He hasn't gotten back yet.

Billy O'Dell, like Jack Sanford, is an in-and-outer, hot one day and cold the next. When the chips are down and they are needed most, they collapse. The Giants seldom spot either O'Dell, Sanford or McCormick any runs. Usually the runs come on the installment plan and a very sparse number at that.

"Don't mention my name, just bet a stack of blue chips, the blame for the Giants, if they continue to nose-dive, will be attached to the pitching staff," my informer states.

A LITTLE guy like Stu Miller has done okay. But he could have been much more effective had he been given the same kind of treatment that Elroy Face received when he was going so good for Pittsburgh.

Manager Dark exhibits shaky judgment in the use of Miller. The times he has been real effective was against the free swinging hitters. The tail-enders in the batting lineup really murder Stu and his butterfly stuff.

Dick LeMay, the young southpaw rookie, Bobby Bolin and now Dom Zanni are just fill-ins, or batting practice chuckers.

SO ANOTHER All-Star break is coming and the Giant staff might get a rest. But not for long. At least we think the few days off might be of greater help to the struggling regulars than to such fellows as Orlando Cepeda and Willie Mays. If either of these two stars fade out, the club goes to pieces. The decline of Felipe Alou and the sporadic hitting of Ed Bailey and Harvey Kuenn has created a situation hard to cover up.

BENEFIT KNEEBALL TILT TOMORROW

Crazy scenes above and below, resembling something like a crap shooters' convention, are from previous "Kneeball Bowl" games played in Marin County. Tomorrow night Petaluma will host the annual game of football played on knees for the benefit of Pop Warner football teams in Marin and Sonoma counties. The game between Marin and Sonoma teams will be played at Petaluma High School field starting at 9 o'clock. Admission is $1 per family. Details on page 17. (Independent-Journal photos)

Striking Stripers Wow Anglers; Limits For All In Less Than Hour

STEVENS

Time marches on, but a perfect picture of the parade will forever remain framed in the minds of Morgan Chivers and his six fellow anglers. A mental moving picture of the epic event of Sunday, July 23, 1961.

That was the day when the seven heroes sailed the waters of San Francisco Bay opposite Candlestick Park in search for Roccus sagitalis.

As Chivers, leader of the expedition, told this reporter: "We could hardly believe our eyes. For at least a half mile fore and aft of the ship the water was being churned to a froth by leaping, rolling, feeding bass. Small fish, anchovies, were making desperate efforts to elude the horde of striking stripers.

"In less than one hour we had seven limits of dandy bass aboard and had to call it a day. We used lures and three ounces of weights. Impossible to let out more than 10 yards of line before we had a fish on!".

Morgan informed me that the fish were all fresh runners and weighed from four to 12 pounds but none was under the legal limit.

TOO BAD the Chivers' craft had no radio phone to broadcast the good news to other boats. Apparently his boat was the only one in the entire area on Sunday.

With the coming of another series of minus tides, chances are both the anchovies and the feeding bass will be in evidence in the lower reaches for some time, so what's holding you back?

Try trolling with bright spoons or spinners with not much weight. You may do yourselves a lot of good in almost any section of the lower bay spots, Alcatraz, the Bay Bridge, Racoon Strait, California City and, unless we miss our guess, Richardson Bay.

Jay Johnson Top Basketball Scorer

Jay Johnson of Larkspur took over the lead in the Drake Summer Basketball League's individual scoring race last night with a 21-point performance that helped down Kentfield 40-29.

In three games, all won by Larkspur, Johnson has scored a total of 36 points. Second place in scoring is Tom O'Connell of Kentfield with 27, followed by Brad Busch of San Anselmo and Jerry Smith of Kentfield, each with 21.

In other games last night San Anselmo downed Mill Valley 35-29 and San Rafael whipped Novato 46-24.

ALL STARS NAMED

Pony League Champions Crowned In San Rafael

San Rafael Pony League baseball schedule was completed this week with The Northbridgers crowned senior division champions and the Elks the junior winners.

Individual trophies were presented to players and managers last night at Albert Park by League President Ray Shone.

The Northbridgers, managed by Joe Anselmo, included Bill Degrazia, Dick Schultze, Bob Redding, Paul Meuse, Tom Kresbach, Jerry Daniele, Marshall Enderby, Rich Bacich, Jack Edwards, Doug Hale, Doug Matlock, Joe Hebel, Alan Ruoff, Mike Congdon and Pete Noga.

The Elks, managed by Ray Forsythe, included John Chandler, Dan Bell, John Dillman, John Bauer, Glenn Birdsall, Ronald Goodrich, Ronnie Garnma, Tom Miller, John Snider, Larry Stevenson, John Kelley, Mike Martinez, Jim Langbehm, Bill O'Bailey, James Hallowman and Bruce Makinson.

Two San Rafael League all-star teams were selected to play in the San Anselmo Tournament this week.

The senior team of 15-16-17-year-olds is composed of Alan Finley, Joe Hebel, Bill Carlson, Mike Congdon, Jim Costello, Rich Curry, Jerry Smith, Dick Schultze, Paul Meuse, Tommy Williams, John Franzman, Pete Noga, Steve Hasser, Jerry Daniele, Dennis Chico, Leroy Zigler and Don Hansen.

Miners Don't Dig British Austerity

LONDON (UPI)—British miners today turned a cold shoulder to the government's austerity program.

National Miners' Union leaders voted to ignore the government's appeal for a "pause" on wage boost demands by industrial workers.

The action marked one of many signs of discontent with the program designed to boost export sales and steady the nation's economy.

At London's Barnsbury public school, 48 teachers staged a one-day strike to protest the government's refusal to meet teacher salary hike demands.

Santa Cruz Mountain Fire Under Control

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A 10-day-old fire that charred 8,670 acres of valuable Santa Cruz Mountain watershed and destroyed two homes was declared controlled today.

Ranger George Britton of the State Division of Forestry said residents of some 70 homes that had been evacuated were allowed to return this morning and most of the 1,000 fire fighters were sent back to their home stations.

A small force will remain to completely extinguish the blaze, a task expected to take several weeks, Britton said.

Six firemen suffered slight injuries while battling the fire in the mountains southwest of San Jose.

A fire that has destroyed 2,070 acres less than a mile northeast of Sonora has been controlled. Some 500 men encircled the blaze that for a time threatened more than 300 homes in Browns Flat and Sonora.

Fewer than 150 fire fighters were on the lines last night, watching for possible flare-ups.

State Forest Service Investigator Frank Quadro of Sacramento checked out arson suspicions in the Sonora blaze, which began Tuesday.

State Dispatcher Sterling Damgaard said five fires broke out in the area at the same time.

"That just couldn't be an accident," he said.

Frederick E. Litke, 18, a ranch laborer, was arraigned Wednesday in Oakhurst Justice Court on arson and murder charges, growing out of the 42,000-acre brush and timber fire which killed an elderly couple and wiped out two communities.

The district attorney said Litke admitted he set the fire to clear some brush.

Review, Luncheon At Center

The weather, setting and program for Wednesday's Northgate luncheon at Marin Art and Garden Center added up to "perfect." The new transparent awnings over the luncheon tables screened out the sunlight. There were a few sweaters worn over colorful summer frocks, and some parasols shaded some of the guests. Members of the Marin County Humane Society Auxiliary, the sponsoring group, served the luncheon at gaily decorated tables.

Mrs. Frank Baumgarten, co-chairman of the summer luncheon series with Mrs. Arthur W. Feidler, introduced the guest artist, Lewis Lengfeld of Books Inc., who has a wekly TV program.

Although he was designated as a book reviewer he does not follow the usual procedures of the profession. He had on display a huge pile of the new books. One by one he showed them, told a bit about the authors and said just enough for his hearers to decide whether or not they wanted to read the works.

In the first group were the "heavier" works; "The Agony and the Ecstacy" by Irving Stone, story of the brilliant and versatile Michelangelo, "Rembrandt," "Mila 18," a grim and gripping book of the Warsaw ghetto, by Uris, author of "Exodus," and "The Winter of Our Discontent." This is John Steinbeck in a new locale, New England. When Lengfeld picked up "The Carpetbaggers" by Harold Robbins he wore an asbestos glove. He said of the book, "every speck of it is worse than the last speck."

The speaker praised "The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich," "Inside Europe Today" by John Gunther, the autobiography of the great Philippines leader, "I Walked With Heroes," "Music of the Spheres." Labeled as amusing were "The Marrying Americans" and Stan Delaplane's "How She Grew." Reprints of "The Shirley Letters," a woman's view of a man's world in California of Gold Rush days, and "The Crookedest Railroad in the World," were praised.

The speaker concluded with showing cook books and children's books. In the last group was "Pat the Bunny," of which more than five million copies have been sold.

A delightful interlude in the program took place when Lengfeld held up a copy of Helen Holdredge's "The House of the Strange Woman" and said "I don't know where the writer gets all the dirt" and presented Mrs. Holdredge whose "Mammy Pleasant" had been a sensation when it was published.

Mrs. Holdredge told how she "got the dirt." She had seen Theresa Bell when she was a little girl and was fascinated by her. Then "things" just seemed to fall in her hands." In an old house where she lived in Vancouver, Wash., she found the Bell diary. Later a famous San Francisco attorney turned over the legal documents in the Bell lawsuits to her.

Mrs. Baumgarten announced that Panhellenic will be the sponsoring group at next Wednesday's luncheon. FGD

Brownies Are First Contributors

The 14 Brownies of Troop No. 48 have made the first voluntary contribution to the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce tree planting project, Chamber Secretary-Manager Granville L. Beedle disclosed today.

"The girls are very much interested in helping out in any way they can," Mrs. Dino H. Esposti, of 236 Elm Avenue, Mill Valley, leader of the troop, wrote. "If it is possible after the trees have been planted they would be happy to help care for them, too.

"I am enclosing a check (for $10) in hopes that you will be able to use it."

The Chamber accepted the $10 with thanks and appreciation, Beedle said.

The girls are Margie Bare, Penny Burgan, Toni Esposti, Joan Frasson, Lorna Freeman, Martha Jordan, Jean Jolley, Libby Kerrigan, Betsy Lawson, Lori Miller, Carol Pritchard, Barbara Raggio, Lynne Stephenson and Pam Souza.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Welcome, Farewell, Reunion Birthday Fete At One Party

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Mr. and Mrs. Morrison Goodrich, who recently moved from Mill Valley to Los Ranchitos, entertained at a dinner party Saturday night which was a welcome and farewell, a birthday celebration and family reunion. Honored were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. M. (Jack) Taylor who are again residing in Marin after a long absence.

The Taylors lived in the Dominican Convent area of San Rafael before World War II. They moved to Napa County where they own the picturesque Mayacamas winery near Lokoya Lodge. They have bought a house in Sleepy Hollow, San Anselmo. It is on a hill on the former property of the late Justice Jesse Carter. It is near the home of their son-in-law and daughter (Robin), Mr. and Mrs. J. W. M. Schorer, and their three and a half year old daughter, Carina. This is well because Jack Taylor has to be away from home much of the time. He is now going to fly to Panama, New York and London. He is an oil consultant and a former vice president of Shell Oil Co. The dinner was also a celebration of Mary Taylor's birthday.

Guests at the Goodrich party were the Taylors, Schorers, the Taylors' son, Jim, his wife and their baby daughter, Laurie, of Los Angeles, the Taylors' other son-in-law and daughter (Judith), Mr. and Mrs. Revett Cant of St. Helena. It will probably be the last time the family will be together for years as the Cants, with their two children, are returning to Revett's native Australia. He has taken a position with a winery enterprise in Victoria. Jim's wife and baby remained for several weeks' visit with his mother.

Mary Taylor, a writer who has several published works to her credit, has just completed a book. The subject? Mayacamas, of course.

A GARDEN WEDDING is planned by Judy Newbauer, whose engagement to Peter Bluett has been announced by her mother, Mrs. Helen Newbauer. The afternoon nuptials will take place in the garden of Mrs. Newbauer's Belvedere home Sept. 2. Judy, a graduate of Redwood High School, last year attended the University of Oregon at Eugene. She is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. Her father is Jerome P. Newbauer of San Anselmo.

Her fiance is the son of the Charles Bluetts of San Francisco. He was graduated from the University of Oregon in 1958 and was two years with the Special Services in the Army. His fraternity is Sigma Alpha Epsilon. He and his bride will reside in San Francisco where he is with IBM.

A WELCOME HOME was given two Belvedere couples, just returned from Europe, by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Elliott of Belvedere Sunday night. In honor places at the buffet supper party were the James Garretts and Nelson Romeys. The lanai was transformed into a gay Mexican cafe and the tables, at which 50 guests were seated, were there. Mexican food was served.

KNEE-CAPS SHOW IN DIOR LINE

PARIS (UPI)—The House of Christian Dior today unveiled a shapely, sexy "New Look" for autumn and winter fashions that featured short hemlines giving a glimpse of the knee-cap.

The subtle, sinuous look was baptized the "Charm 62 Line" and was shown before an enthusiastic audience that included Princess Lee Radziwill, sister of Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy. The president's sister-in-law seemed to enjoy the new line.

The 35-year-old designer Marc Bohan, who succeeded Yves St. Laurent last January, showed he was out to lure women into showing shapely legs under short-skirted clothes.

Promising to renew the success of his first collection in January, Bohan received an ecstatic welcome from his audience. Repeated applause greeted the deadpan models in Dior's perfumed, silky salons in an exciting and fast-paced show.

Jacques Heim Shows A Touch Of Beatnik

PARIS (UPI) — Designer Jacques Heim offered the "spiral silhouette" in the Paris fashion parade and also threw in a touch of beatnik yesterday.

At Heim's morning show a brunette mannequin walked in wearing a shiny black suit made of oil-skin and trimmed with a white loop-fringe around the neck and the jacket edge. Looking very "nouvelle vague" (new wave) this outfit indicated it will still be all right to be a "beat" or at least to have a little of the beatnik look.

Heim, one of the top designers as well as being the president of the Paris fashion syndicate, offered a new "spiral silhouette" which fell right in line with the current trend for slender, fitted princess' shapes.

Preferring longer skirts for next season, Heim showed hemlines 18 or 19 inches from the floor.

The spiral silhouette appeared in bodices draped like furled ribbon on a may pole, sheathing the figure down to the mid-thighs from which the skirt flared to a rippling hem.

For budget-minded women, Heim introduced "dress-coats," a style in which one garment can take the place of two. These dress-coats in wrap-around style were stripped of all non-essentials for a look of what Heim called smart "understated elegance." Made of tweed or plain wool they can stand in for a dress plus coat or a suit.

Beltless and slender, the dress-coats had either the characteristic loop-fringe trimming or were cut plain and collarless and shown with a fur-scarf.

Heim also used simulated leather for some of his sports outfits to prove that all that shines must not necessarily be leather. One dress in the new spiral silhouette was made of black "pigskin" which turned out to be orlon. This dress was shown with a roomy tweed cape-coat equally lined in "pigskin."

Heim's new coats were all on the bulky side with semi-fitted fronts and roomy cape backs.

Heim exclusively dresses France's first lady, Madame Charles de Gaulle. He is also a favorite with French society girls and debs.

Open House Friday Climaxes Ross P-TA Summer Activities

An open house program marking the culmination of the Ross P-TA summer activities program will be held at 8 p.m. Friday in the Ross School multipurpose room.

Featured will be a fashion show, exhibits, folk dancing, and awarding of trophies and certificates. The program is for parents of participating children but the general public is also invited.

A total of 489 enrollments was registered in the 1961 program with 276 children participating, according to director Mrs. Edward J. Neumeier.

The fashion show will feature 12 girls from the dressmaking class modeling their dresses and outfits and 12 girls from the basic sewing class showing the aprons they made. Sewing instructor Mrs. Leonore Zahn of Ross, assisted by Mrs. Charles Doyle of Ross, is in charge of the fashion show.

Students from the arts and music group, directed by Mrs. Hazel Nelson of Mill Valley, will present the folk dancing.

Exhibits on display will include those by the photography class, the arts and crafts students, the nature study group, and the typing class.

Awards for tennis, typing, arts and crafts, swimming, and life saving will be presented. Geoffrey White, of Corte Madera, tennis supervisor, will present trophies and ribbons to the winners of the two tournaments held during the program.

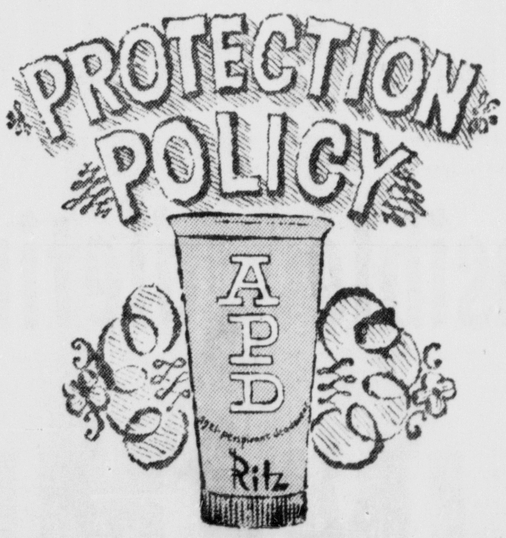

Twenty-three Red Cross junior life saving certificates will be awarded by Richard Del Tredicci of San Anselmo, life saving instructor. Swimming certificates will be presented by Mrs. Marghatta Eggenburger of Santa Venetia, swimming teacher, to 122 participants.

Course certificates for typing will be awarded to 30 children by Mrs. Lillian Bock of Greenbrae, typing instructor.

Mrs. Nelson will present perfect attendance certificates to students from the nature study and the arts and crafts program.

Refreshments will be served. Mrs. Ross Tourney, chairman of the 1961 activities committee, is in charge.

MARINITES GREET HAWAIIAN SINGERS

The president of the Kamehameha Schools in Honolulu, Hawaii, Harold W. Kent flew out to meet the Boys School's Glee Club, now on tour, at Monday's luncheon at Peacock Gap. A number of Marin County officials and other residents were invited to the luncheon and remained for the concert given by the boys. In one group were Mrs. Earle Young, Mrs. Aaron E. Rucker, Harold W. Kent and Dr. Young.

'HAPPY BIRTHDAY' was sung to Mayor John McInnis of San Rafael as a birthday cake was put in front of him and a lei put on his shoulders by pretty Penny Thompson at Monday's luncheon at Peacock Gap. Penny is one of the official staff on the Kamehameha Glee Club tour. (Photos by Karl Baron)

Role Of Plastics In Household Is Shown In London

The U.S. exhibit at the recent International Plastics Exhibition in London would indicate that plastics are an important part of the day of the American housewife. Sixteen plastics products from detergent bottles to dinnerware were selected for the household display of plastic aids used by the U.S. housewife in daily chores.

Electric eggbeaters, knife-sharpeners, dishdrainer', lightweight chairs and a rug shampooing machine were among the plastic household aids in the exhibit. A rug shampooing machine, designed to look like two sleek white tubes forming an upside "T", was selected in the classification of "good design of a practical item." The dishdrainer, looking more like a model of free-form sculpture than a drainer, was chosen because it's a familiar item in a new form. And for the young mother, there was a combination baby bottle warmer and food warmer.

What A Joy Are Those Summer Barbecues With Friends, Dogs

Heigh-ho friends, this is backyard barbecue season. Is your stomach holding out? Mine feels tender, thank you. Who invented barbecues anyway?

To give a proper barbecue party you must pick the hottest evening in the week. You invite your friends over. They prove their friendship by coming. The ladies arrive in summer dresses. Much skin is exposed and the mosquitoes love that.

You thaw out the steaks. Buying them put a crimp in your food budget but you keep mum about that. You mix your barbecue sauce. Of course, you can buy better sauce at any store but it is fun to smile and say, "It's my special invention."

Next you cook. The charcoal is slow starting so you pour on kerosene. Whoom! More flames. You sprinkle water. Between the flames and the water you carbonize the meat. Black outside, raw inside.

You eat, pretending it is tasty. Your friends, God bless 'em, go along with the sham. About that time your dog gets out. We're silly about dogs in my family. We have several, all large. When they arrive things get unhinged. At first they bark and growl, causing alarm. Next they wag their tails, knocking glasses off tables. Then they become affectionate. Have you ever seen what happens when a lady feels the large, wet tongue licking her bare shoulders? It's worth watching.

Afterward you sing, or talk. If you are brave, you dance. Finally the guests leave. You stagger inside, looking for the soda bicarb. Good old barbecues!

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "I want to make our children sit on the car seats, and use our seat belts. My husband says it wouldn't be worth the struggle. What do you think?"

H.L.

(A) You are right, but it will be a struggle. Seat belts greatly reduce the likelihood of children being killed in car crashes. Good luck.

LANES FETED ON 55TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Keener Lane of San Rafael were honored recently at an open house marking their 55th wedding anniversary at the home of the Richard E. Lanes in Marinwood.

Hosting the affair with the Lanes was Mrs. Robert Seligman of Crescent City, daughter of the honored couple.

The celebrants who also have a son, Robert I. Lane of Redwood City, were married in Castella, Shasta County. Mrs. Lane was the former Emma Carter. The late California Supreme Court Justice Jesse W. Carter was her brother. The Lanes, who have lived in Marin County for 20 years, came from Sacramento. He was formerly in the construction business.

A buffet dinner was served and champagne toasts given the honored couple. Mrs. Seligman presented her mother an orchid corsage.

THE BETTER HALF — By Bob Barnes

FACE AND FIGURE

Morn Appearance Should Be Bright

How far does a man carry a mental picture of his wife after he leaves her for work in the morning? He may let it fade, mercifully, before he reaches the sidewalk. Or, he might keep it with him for most of the day. It all depends on what he saw before he left the house.

If his beloved was last remembered enveloped in the ravages of sleep and an exhausted terry wrapper, sheer kindness could force him to blot the image from his mind. On the other hand, if she appeared looking reasonably crisp and pleasantly, but not inhumanly, cheerful—he'd be inclined to cherish the vision.

MIGHT PAUSE

It is not a woman's duty to rise several hours before her husband and give herself a complete beauty treatment. However, after stumbling out of bed, she might pause at her dressing table for a minute or two—just long enough to stimulate a look of wide-awake femininity.

She can create a freshly-scrubbed impression by cleansing her face with an astringent lotion. Soak the lotion into a cotton pad and wipe it gently over the skin. The astringent action will stimulate circulation, taking away the gray, bloodless look that usually follows several hours of deep sleep. Skin Fresh will also remove surface accumulations of dust and lingering touches of night cream.

ONLY A SECOND

It will only take a second to comb or pat her hair into place—and if it's bristling with curlers, these should really be removed. She can preserve the waves under an invisible hairnet if she's hoarding her coiffure for an important occasion later in the day. A touch of lipstick will add color to her lips and animation to her early morning face.

If she prefers serving breakfast in her dressing gown, she shouldn't pin her faith on one model. Even the most costly robe de chambre can become a tired wrapper within weeks, if it's flung on every morning and thrown down every night. She'd be better off investing in a selection of simple, inexpensive and washable pegnoirs that would make her seem slightly different and, most important, appealing Monday through Friday. Saturday and Sunday, she deserves to sleep in.

Alpha Phi Chapter President Is Also Home Economy Teacher

MRS. BINK BECKMANN

Mrs. Bink Beckmann of Marinwood is the new president of the Alpha Phi Marin County Alumnae Chapter for 1961-62. She succeeds Mrs. Walter S. Wright of Marinwood.

A native of Spokane, Wash., Mrs. Beckmann lived there most of her life until her marriage and has lived in California eight years.

She was graduated from Washington State University with a B.S. degree in home economics, institution management, and for a number of years worked as a home economist for an electrical company or in restaurant management in Seattle, Wash.

She has also been a freelance equipment demonstrator in San Francisco, a 4-H home supervisor in Humboldt and Del Norte counties and has taught many classes for the YWCA, including those in San Rafael for the last two years.

After finishing instruction of classes for homemakers' service in San Francisco she is spending the summer resting.

In 1950 she married Bink Beckmann, who is a territorial representative for a rubber company out of San Francisco. Their sons are Bryce, 4, and Blaine, 8 months.

She is a former member of the Marin Branch of the American Assn. of University Women and has many interests and hobbies, including cooking, gardening, reading, swimming, ice skating and jewelry designing.

Mrs. Beckmann, former vice president of the Marin Alpha Phi Alumnae Chapter, will have as her slate of officers Mesdames Tore Noren of Mill Valley, vice president; Marsh W. Bull of Ross, secretary; and William T. Broderick of Mill Valley, treasurer.

New chairmen are Mesdames Vernon C. Gustafsson, hospitality; James A. Kephart, telephone and communications; Philip Cramp, Panhellenic representative; Charles Curley, chapter editor; Otto Meyer and A. Robbins Whittlesey, philanthropy; and Mrs. Wright, press.

Late September is the time set for the Alpha Phi annual wives and husbands party. Mrs. Gustafsson is general chairman of the committee composed of Mesdames Noren, Whittlesey and John D. Billings.

The first scheduled meeting will be held Sept. 12, at the home of Mrs. Cramp in San Rafael.

The moon is full.

The morning stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evenings stars are Mars, Saturn and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1789, the Department of Foreign Affairs, forerunner of the State Department, was established by an act of Congress.

In 1945, at a convention of delegates of the Communist Political Assn., members voted to disband the organization and re-establish the Communist Party of the United States.

In 1953, a Korean armistice was signed at Panmunjom following the longest truce negotiations in history, two years and 17 days.

In 1955, Austria regained her sovereignty after 17 years of occupation by foreign troops.

A thought for today: Irish writer Oscar Wilde said: "The only way to get rid of a temptation is to yield to it."

Lots Of Good Baseball Yet For Small Fry Of Marin

Little League baseball for Marin County youngsters is pretty much over for 1961. Regular season play is finished.

However, an extended schedule of championship tournaments and all-star games still remain.

It has become popular in many quarters in the past several years to criticize Little League. The managers, say critics, are a bunch of frustrated athletic failures who want to force their progeny to excel where father wasn't able to excel in his own day.

The fierce competition just isn't good for youngsters, say another chorus of critics. You also hear that too much emphasis is placed on winning and not enough on just playing for fun as "we did in the old sand lot days." But Little League continues to attract an increasing number of boys. And it seems obvious that more good than bad must come from it.

Actually, the managers and other adult leaders are for the most part unselfish individuals just trying to do something to interest youth in a healthy, constructive activity.

School administrators have long observed that most youngsters who participate enthusiastically in athletics are not usually trouble-makers. Confirmed delinquents, on the other hand, are almost always those who never were sufficiently interested in athletics to participate much.

When Little League boosters tell us, then, that baseball keeps the kids off the streets and combats juvenile delinquency, there seems to be a factual basis for the claim.

Is your youngster interested?

If so, he probably would be glad to see some of the all-star or championship tournaments now in progress.

This very evenings, starting at 6 o'clock, both minors and juniors from various parts of the Bay Area continue their tournament play at San Anselmo Memorial Park. They play again tomorrow night at the same time and again Saturday and Sunday afternoons and evenings.

Semi-final all-star games are set for the same hour this evening at Novato, with finals set for Saturday at Corte Madera.

Starting Monday, the Marin County championship tournament games will be played at various points in Marin, culminating in the finals at Hamilton Air Force Base Aug. 5.

If your youngster has not shown interest to date, perhaps attendance at some of these games may provide the spark to get him interested. One thing is sure, the games aren't dull.

Firemen Just About Only People Who Take Grass Fires Seriously

THE GRASS has turned to a crackling brown as it does each summer in Marin.

There's more than a month ahead before the rains come again to make the hills soft and green. Until then, there will be grass fires, caused mainly by human negligence, stupidity and downright orneriness.

The grass fire is not a pretty thing, as fires go. It usually is fought under a boiling sun. It may be far back in the boondocks where firemen have to fight their way to it. It usually is dusty, dirty, black with smoke and drifting with black ash.

Or it can be just a friendly little backyard grass fire, near a wooden fence and wood roofing and walls.

NO ONE SEEMS to take grass fires too seriously, except firemen. "It's just grass," they say. No property damage.

In the Novato Fire District, 75 square miles of it, there were 105 grass fires last year. That's 105 times firemen had to race out of the firehouse, slog through the dirt, perhaps spend hours cleaning equipment and drying hoses.

That total of 105 is almost a third of the fire calls (339) for the entire year. The blackened spots along roadsides, children's play spots in the hills and yards are ugly and barren looking for months afterward.

The black spots are located along roadsides because a good number of grass fires start from cigarets tossed from cars. Another common cause is "controlled burning" which gets out of hand, or incinerators and their sparks.

BUT THE MOST fearsome thought is the kids who start grass ifres because it's exciting and fun to see the shiny trucks race to the fire with sirens blaring.

One fire in an area may be followed by a rash of others in the neighborhood as the idea spreads. Of those 105 grass fires last year, 41 were set by kids. There were 117 grass fires in 1959, with 37 set by youngsters. The figures are similar, year after year.

This looks like a bumper summer for grass burning. There have been 56 grass fires since the fire "season" began in mid-May. Last year at this time there were "only" 41.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Value Of I-J Is Threatened

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your front page treatment of the two young boys who are responsible for setting the railway tunnel fire which resulted in the death of a fireman is a sad reversal of policy on the part of a newspaper which has previously avoided compounding tragedy by needlessly publishing meaningless and sensational material connected with juveniles.

The district attorney's reasons for pursuing a charge of murder against these boys can only be compared with British law in the mid-1800's, when a 13 year old was hanged for petty theft. Howling for the blood of children must be politically expedient in our seemingly enlightened times, but it can never be defended on moral grounds. You as a newspaper have even less reason to confuse mental illness with preconceived criminal intent.

Your editorial page often carries messages which invoke Christian compassion. Yet you see fit to publicize this tragedy in a manner designed to the greatest harm to all concerned—the children, their families AND our potentially adult community. In losing sight of your responsibility as a source of mature information you have dangerously threatened your value in this area.

BEN CHAMBERLAIN
Sausalito

Ed. Note: A year or two ago the I-J invited letters from readers on the question of printing the names of juvenile offenders. The response was overwhelmingly—almost unanimously—in favor of publishing names. It was the honest conviction of that near-unanimous majority that the value of the publicity in combatting delinquency would far outweigh possible detriment.)

Sr. Citizen Would Walk Freeway

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Must a senior citizen living in Santa Venetia have a permit to walk from Lincoln Ave. over the Puerto Suello Hill to North San Pedro Road? Or is he to be isolated from the Rafaelites because he has no car, no bus service, no permit, no friends, no helicopter, or lease on life either.

Friday afternoon (July 21), I was walking home from San Rafael and stopped a moment to shoot a picture from my point of view on top of the ground bank between 101 Highway and Lincoln Ave. approach. I just got on top when Mr. State Copper, all fired up over the tunnel fire, made his way across the highway and said, "Where is your permit?" I did not know that I was infringing on any part of the state law by walking home.

He ordered me to go around the hill.

I was footsore and not able to walk around by the China Camp to get home.

He said, "I should run you in!"

Probably that would have been better for I am 76 years young and minus one hand and if I dare not walk to San Rafael anymore, then life is not worth much.

Luck was with me. A car stopped and gave me a ride to San Pedro Road. (Many thanks to the driver.)

So, since no provision is made for pedestrians to walk over this hill, let me suggest that the tunnel be dedicated for us forlorn, stranded Santa Venetianites to pass through to the promised land. (San Rafael.)

We pensioners are not able to charter a helicopter and if we could, how in the helicopter could we land here in the Garden of Eden without being seen by the State Coppers?

Make Dam Safe For Swimmers

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I sympathize with the residents of the Cascade Dam area. Their complaints are justifiable, for one side of the problem. I, too, would feel the same way if I were living in that lovely area.

I was curious about Cascade Dam and went up with a group of youngsters one day and I think it is one of the most beautiful and delightful places I have ever seen. But it is not a private place.

I, like many other parents, am concerned about our teenage children. Where can they swim? How can they occupy themselves during the summer?

We have no recreation center in Mill Valley. Is there not some way Mill Valley can raise funds to widen the road? It is much too narrow for safety. Isn't there some way we can help our children enjoy some clean fun?

I have talked with a group of the older teen-age boys and they are more than willing to work hard and help fix the area up so it will be safer for all.

I know an adult swimming instructor who is willing to donate her services each day after 12:30, through the afternoon.

There are dams in the country and small towns where swimming is permitted for reasons given above. I was fortunate to have come from such a town in the Santa Cruz Mountains: Boulder Creek. The Volunteer Fire Dept. does much to keep the dam in order and safe for the teen-agers. They also sponsor dances during the summer each night—free. Why shouldn't we do as much for our youngsters?

A REMINDER FROM THE COMMUNISTS

There's food for thought in this excerpt from the French Communist publication "Paix et Liberte."

"The gospel is a much more powerful weapon for the renovation of society than our Marxist view of the world. Yet it is we who shall conquer you in the end . . .

"Of our salaries and wages we keep only what is absolutely necessary and the rest we give up for propaganda purposes . . .

"You, however, give only a little time and scarcely any money for the spreading of Christ's gospel.

"How can anyone believe in the all-surpassing value of the gospel if you do not practice it, if you do not spread it, if you sacrifice neither your time nor your money for that purpose?"

Check on yourself to see if this significant taunt applies to you. Are you doing your part to blend the divine principles of Jesus Christ and His gospel into human affairs?

"He that is not with Me, is against Me." (Matthew 12:30)

Keep me conscious, O Lord, that failure to further Your cause is to work against it.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

Formula For Being Well-Liked Includes A Little Imbalance

NEW YORK (AP)—Once upon a time there was a man who set out to be popular and well-liked.

His name was Mortimer Witherspoon Thrope.

He went to the public library and read a book on how to become popular and successful.

"The way to be popular is to be normal," the book said. "Just act as a normal, balanced civilized individual should act and you're bound to be well-liked."

So Thrope faithfully followed the book's advice. He decided to become the most normal individual in his community.

Mortimer married a girl who was neither homely nor pretty—just average.

They had three children, all of whom got medium grades in school.

Mortimer bought a standard-sized house with a standard-sized mortgage in a standard-sized neighborhood.

He drove a medium-sized car and traded it in on a new one every three years.

He joined the Elks, the PTA, and the American Legion.

He subscribed to a book club, but carefully avoided reading any of the selections—unless they hit the best seller list.

Mortimer always—or almost always—got up to give his seat to an old lady on the bus, particularly if anyone from his neighborhood was on the bus, too.

He always arrived on the job punctually at 9 a.m., and left promptly at 5:30. "I get paid for doing a full day's work—and I like to give it to them," he said.

When the boss told a joke in a conference, Mortimer was the second employee to start chuckling and the next to the last to quit laughing.

At cocktail parties Mortimer got high but never loaded, and never bragged about himself.

AFTER 15 YEARS of exemplary living, Mortimer suddenly awoke to the fact that instead of being widely popular, he was being avoided, even by old acquaintances.

So Mortimer hired a public relations man to find out why. This individual made a secret survey of Mortimer's neighborhood and office and came back with his report.

"THEY THINK you're too good to be true, Mr. Thorpe. They don't trust you. They think you must be hiding something."

Moral: If you want to be popular, be different. Everyone suspects anyone who acts too normal.

Education Elevated At Ohio School

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — School administrators hope to solve the problems of overcrowding and inadequate play space at Van Cleve School — plus the cost of acquiring land — by building a school on stilts.

"The purpose of this is to save space by elevating the building," Supt. Robert B. French told the board. "Children could use the open area under the building for play."

Asst. Supt. W. M. Bagwell said he hopes planners will come up with something that does "not look like a monstrosity."

REMEMBER WHEN

10 YEARS AGO

Plans for a thanksgiving service at the Mill Valley Methodist Church youth chapel were announced, to be carried out as soon as possible after a Korea cease-fire is arranged.

Mill Valley launched a master plan for parking development by council instruction that 12 spaces be set up at the rear of the city hall.

Fairfax City Council voted to abandon "all efforts to establish a city-by-city curfew ordinance."

20 YEARS AGO

Recall proceedings were started against George Griffits and George Engels, Mill Valley councilmen, because they opposed a city bus line.

A contract for $513,000 was let for expansion of Hamilton Field runways and landing mats to take care of new pursuit planes. Width of 250 feet will be broadened to 600 feet along the 5,000-foot main runway.

Pacific Greyhound Lines made a compromise with Novato people to set the monthly commute rate at $14.50 monthly instead of the previous $18.05.

BEHIND U.S. MOVES

2-China Policy Looms For U.N.

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

For more than 10 years the United States has followed a policy toward Nationalist China branded even by its friends as unrealistic.

And it is illustrative of the unrelenting pressures of world complexities that at this particular time the United States must divert a part of its attention from threatening crises in Berlin and Tunisia to consider a change in its China policy.

U. S. policy in the United Nations in the past found its expression in adamant refusal even to debate the possibility of a U. N. seat for Red China. And such was the U. S. influence in the U. N. that for 10 years it successfully barred the question from the U. N. agenda.

But the winds of change which have swept the world, also have swept the United Nations.

THE UNITED STATES no longer is assured a majority vote, and the possibilities of a two-China U. N. policy are being increasingly discussed.

On the island of Formosa, the Chiang Kai-Shek government is angered and dismayed.

Nationalist newspapers help fan the flames and the American community of 10,000 persons in Taipei feels increasingly the resentment against a reported softening of the U. S. position toward Red China.

There are unpleasant memories of an anti-American demonstration in 1957 in which nine Americans were injured.

There is no more anti-Communist leader in Asia than Chiang Kai-Shek and it would be pleasant indeed if he were able to pass his declining years undisturbed in his dream of a reconquest of the mainland.

But that seems not to be. For in Chiang's one-track determination lies the hard decision facing the United States.

PUBLISHED IN New York is a small, new publication called "War/Peace Report." It is oriented toward support of the United Nations and in its July issue carries what purports to be a survey of 96 of the 99 members of the United Nations.

It reports that more than three-quarters of the U. N. members believe Communist China should be seated as the representative of China both in the Security Council and in the United Nations.

It says more than two-thirds of the members believe Nationalist China should remain in the General Assembly.

It adds that in case of a showdown between the two Chinas, a majority believes the decision should go to Red China.

The figures seem not to be out of line with the United States' own soundings.

THESE WERE SOME of the facts behind the U. S. decision to negotiate recognition of Outer Mongolia and to permit Outer Mongolia's entrance to the United Nations in exchange for similar action on the new African republic of Mauritania.

It is a vote-getting gesture to other French-speaking republics of Africa. It is a play for the time only.

But inherent in it is the two-China theory. The school of thought which promotes it believes it better for Chiang Kai-Shek to accept half a loaf than have nothing at all. And there is always the possibility that Red China may reject it, making the strategy successful.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A young minister was vacationing in the White Mountains when he learned that a lady guest of the hotel, recently arrived from Boston, was gravely ill. Anxious to cheer her up he paid a courtesy call, murmured a wish for her speedy convalescence, and concluded, "I should like to say a brief prayer for your recovery before I leave."

The sick lady rallied at once, and snapped, "That will be quite unnecessary, young man. I am being prayed for in Boston."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

It's Wonderful To Win Tricks, But Expert Knows When To Lose

It's wonderful to win tricks, but don't be too proud if this is your only talent. An expert must also know how and when to lose tricks.

West opens the deuce of hearts, and East wins. If East knew only how to win tricks he'd take a second heart before looking for something else to do.

This would make the play easy for South. No matter what East returned at the third trick South could ruff his last heart with dummy's low trump. Then it would be simple to draw trumps and wins all of the high cards, giving up a diamond at the very end.

But East stops to think after winning the first trick. Then he returns the ten of trumps.

COMPLICATIONS: This return complicates South's task. If declarer takes dummy's ace of trumps and returns a heart, East will win and will lead another trump. This will kill the ruff, and South will lose three hearts and a diamond.

South must provide a discard for one of his hearts by setting up dummy's long diamond suit. After winning the second trick in dummy with the ace of trumps declarer must lead a low diamond from dummy.

By losing this trick at the right time declarer assures the contract. No matter what East returns, South can draw trumps and lead diamonds. The ace and king of diamonds will capture the missing cards, and dummy's last two diamonds will be good for tricks.

South would lose the contract if he took the top diamonds before giving up a diamond, since he could never get back to dummy to cash the established low cards. It would be equally bad to take one top diamond and give up a diamond, since East would return the suit to give West a ruff.

DAILY QUESTION: Dealer, at your right, opens with one heart. You hold:

♠ A 3
♥ Q 8
♦ A K 8 4 3
♣ 9 6 5 2

What do you say?

Answer: Pass. Your suit is not strong enough for an overcall at the level of two. If your long suit were spades instead of diamonds you could afford to bid one spade.

Charitable Groups Urged To Register With State

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk has advised charitable corporations they will lose their tax-exempt status if they fail to register and file annual financial reports with his office.

Charitable corporations have been required to register and report for several years but a new bill, just signed into law, would deny benefits of tax exemption for failure to file annual reports.

An official in Mosk's office has estimated thousands of such trusts have failed to register in the past. The new budget includes a $35,000 augmentation for investigation and regulation of charitable trusts, indicating a step-up in enforcement.

Legislation which would have limited amounts such organizations could spend on administration were defeated in the legislature.

Service Correction Deadlines Nearing

Time is running out for ex-service men and women who want to correct inaccuracies or injustices in their military or naval records that make them ineligible for veterans benefits.

Veterans Service Officer W. P. (Doc) Duhamel reminds such former service personnel that generally, the deadline for applications to correct alleged error or injustice in armed forces records is before Oct. 26, 1961 or within three years after discovery of such error or injustice, whichever is later.

REP. MILLER SAYS

Health Insurance Bill Due Hearings

By REP. CLEM MILLER

WASHINGTON — This week the House Ways and Means Committee began hearings on the President's bill to provide for health insurance for the aged through the Social Security system.

Spokesmen for the powerful interest groups involved, together with administration officials and members of Congress, will all present their views to the committee. Testimony will be received on suggested alternative solutions to the problem, as well as on the President's proposal.

I will be one of the members of Congress testifying. And I will be glad to submit to the committee any letters or other written statements on the problem which Marin County residents or groups care to forward to me. Any such statements (including three copies) should be mailed to me in time for me to submit them to the committee chairman, Rep. Wilbur Mills (D-Ark.) by Aug. 4.

Although Mills' committee is not now expected to report any health insurance legislation this session, the current hearings should, at the least, help clear the decks for early action next year.

I have received a number of letters asking for details of the proposal that is actually before Congress. I also have received letters which indicate that the specifics of the bill are not known to all who have strong opinions on it.

The President's proposal, as introduced in the House by Rep. Cecil King (D-Calif) would provide the following benefits:

1. In-patient hospital services up to 90 days in a single period of illness, for all costs in excess of $10 a day for the first nine days, and full costs for the remaining 81 days. (Because hospital costs place by far the heaviest burden on older persons, or on their children, it is these services that receive major emphasis.)

2. Skilled nursing-home services up to 180 days immediately after discharge from a hospital. To provide an incentive for use of these less expensive facilities, an individual could receive two days of nursing-home care in place of one day of hospital care when this meets his requirements.

3. Hospital out-patient clinic diagnostic services for all costs in excess of $20. These services, too, should reduce the need for hospital admissions and encourage early diagnosis.

4. Community visiting nurse services, and related home health services, for a limited period of time. This would enable many older people to receive proper health care in their own homes.

The bill (H. R. 4222) proposes that these benefits be available to all persons aged 65 and over who are eligible for Social Security or railroad retirement benefits.

Safflower Is New Industry In State

DAVIS (UPI)—A fast-growing market has spurred the growth of a relatively new California industry — based on a plant from the Arabian Nights.

The plant is safflower. Two years ago only two firms were contracting for the oil given by the safflower seed. Now there are 12 in California alone.

One reason for the increased interest in safflower stems from the increased concern on the part of the diet-conscious public. Safflower oil has a high content of unsaturated fatty acids and is the richest natural source of such oils.

Persons Dumping Debris To Be Cited

People going through Larkspur en route to the county dump and losing debris on the streets will be cited, City Manager Ronald E. Piper said yesterday.

Many complaints have come to the city hall about pickup trucks and trailers hauling to the county dump and letting debris blow out onto the street, Piper said. He has instructed Police Chief Howard Clark to start issuing citations for this offense.

CONVERTIBLE
$1950
If you're looking for the used convertible that's like new, see this one. Original owner—a retired colonel has put only 17,000 miles on this car and has really given it loving care. There's not even a scratch on all white paint job. Car has been garaged continually and you'd swear the black nylon top was brand new. The interior is red leather and even has had clear plastic covers over the leather since new. The carpets don't look like they have ever been stepped-on. Fordomatic, radio, heater, w/w tires and loads of other extras.

Accreditation Team To Visit College Of Marin

College of Marin will be visited by a state and national accreditation team again in December.

After the last visit by a team appointed to accredit junior colleges, in 1959, College of Marin was accredited for only three years.

Named to the team to inspect the college next Dec. 6 and 7 have been: Dr. H. Lynn Sheller, president of Fullerton Junior College, chairman; Kenneth Tinkler, dean of instruction at Shasta College, and Hubert H. Seamans, dean of instruction at Foothill College, representing California Junior College Assn.; Lyle E. Gibson of San Francisco State College and Sister M. Rose Emmanuella of College of Holy Names, representing Western College Assn., and Ernest G. Kramer, assistant chief of the state bureau of industrial education, representing the state department of education.

Egg Production Up

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Egg production from farm flocks in the State rose to 525 million in June, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reported. That's 9 per cent more than June, 1960.

Junior Museum On Television Show

Activities of the Junior Museum of Marin will be discussed on KRON-TV's "Community Circle" program Sunday at 3 p.m.

Museum curator George F. Raddue III of San Anselmo will visit the program, accompanied by several small animals from the museum.

Lee Noble of Corte Madera is host for the weekly show.

Here's A New Package Insurance Policy For Outboard Boat Owners

Outboard boat owners may be interested in a new package policy being offered by Farmers Insurance Group which San Rafael agent Kelly Simpson says carries a low rate by using deductibles similar to those in comprehensive auto insurance.

The policy covers boat, outboard motor and trailer and carries optional accessory coverage broadened to include such additional property as compass, short wave radio, ladders, anchors and lines, chairs, oars and bait tanks. Not covered are fishing tackle, ski equipment, diving gear and personal effects. An automatic depreciation feature reduces rates on renewal.

Personal liability for the insured extends to loss of life, bodily injury and $10,000 property damage. Higher limits are also available. Other features are guest medical insurance and a 30-day automatic clause for newly acquired or replaced boats and motors.

UNDER ITS PRESENT policy of expansion, this is what the Emporium seeks in a given area before opening a new store:

100,000 square feet of space for the store itself.

300,000 ditto for parking.

An area population of 250,000 from which to draw customers.

The first two are no problems in Marin County. But according to projected figures of growth the third may not come to pass here for another 20 years.

A NEW TENANT in the Corte Madera Shopping Center is attorney Richard G. Burns of Enchanted Knolls. Burns who has been practicing in San Francisco for the past nine years has opened an office on the Arcade adjoining that of Hollie Smith, State Farm Insurance agent. He will still maintainan office in the Grant Building, San Francisco.

A WEEK'S VACATION trip to Bermuda for two has been won by George Dexter, Rambler dealer of San Rafael in a four months sales contest by the American Motors Corp.

George and wife Jeri left by air for New York on Tuesday and right now are probably playing golf, deep-sea fishing or being treated to a native banquet in Bermuda where they are staying at the Lantana Colony Club.

A SUCCESSFUL STORY in advertising comes from Bernard Cassell of Drake Pharmacy, San Anselmo, who ran an ad (in the I-J, of course) early last week on a straw hat cruise kit specialty and a perfume-cologne-bath powder combination.

Both were sold out in two days.

THE MELVILLE OWEN HOME at 106 Avenida Mira Flores in the Del Mar Estates on the Tiburon Peninsula will be featured on the U. S. Gypsum's "Builder's Show Case," a 30-minute program on Channel 7 next Sunday, July 30, at 12 p.m.

The program will give photographs of the home inside and out, emphasizing its unique design for modern living. The Del Mar Estates is a project of the Tiburon Development Corp.

Hopalong Wasn't Always On A Horse —He Once Sailed A Yankee Clipper

Members of the younger generations probably have difficulty separating the actor William Boyd from the silver-haired and soft-spoken cowpoke Hopalong Cassidy that he portrayed in so many westerns. Older film fans, however, remember that there was a pre-Cassidy Boyd.

That Boyd will be seen tonight as the star of one of Cecile B. DeMille's silent screen spectaculars, "Yankee Clipper"—a big hit of the 1920s.

The tale of typhoon and mutiny at sea in the era when the United States and Great Britain were locked in a bitter struggle for the China tea trade will be shown on "Silents Please" over KGO at 10:30 p.m.

TONIGHT'S "Summer Sports Spectacular," to be seen on KPIX at 7:30, is California-based.

CBS cameras recorded the California Rodeo, which ended last weekend at the Salinas Rodeo Park in Salinas.

One of the highpoints of the outdoor rodeo circuit, the California Rodeo features such performers as Casey Tibbs, Harley May, and Winston Bruce. An added highlight tonight will be performances by six trick riding cowgirls.

ALSO ON THE log for this evening:

On "Robert Herridge Theater," KQED at 8:30, Melissa Hayden, New York City Ballet prima ballerina, dances in the jazz ballet, "Frankie and Johnny." The first half of the telecast will show early rehearsals of the ballet, the second half a full dress rehearsal of the entire dance.

On "At the Source," KPIX at 10 o'clock, Walter Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers union, will be interviewed from his office in Detroit's Solidarity House. Reuther has just presented his union's new contract demands to the Detroit's car manufacturers. And he is also likely to be questioned about his role as one of the founders of the now-disbanded Tractors for Freedom Committee.

On "Great Ghost Tales," KRON at 9:30 p.m., an updated version of the W. W. Jacobs horror classic, "The Monkey's Paw," starring Mildred Dunnock and R. G. Armstrong.

TOMORROW night at 8:30 the Capella di Musica, composed of Everett O'Bannon, violin; Elizabeth Bell, viola; Eugenie Egloff, cello; James Matheson, oboe, and Robert Tefft, French horn, will perform in an hour-long concert including Charles Fleury's "Quartet for Horn and String Trio," Beethoven's "String Trio in D Major, Opus 9, No. 2," and Benjamin Britten's "Phantasy for Oboe and String Trio."

The "PM East" and "PM West" combination on KPIX tomorrow night looks like an attractive package. The former, at 11:15 p.m., will offer an appraisal of the late Ernest Hemingway. Taking part with Mike Wallace will be Quentin Reynolds, Carlos Montoya, Leonard Lyons, Leslie Fiedler, Vincent Sheehan and Robert Cantrell. Private film footage of Hemingway, owned by Life magazine, will be shown.

"PM West," at 12:15, a.m. will take up the "high cost of dying" with outspoken best-seller author Jessica Mitford Truehaft discussing the funeral industry. Big Miller will sing.

GOLFERS will be interested in CBS coverage of the PGA championships from Chicago's Olympia Fields Country Club via KPIX, Saturday at 2:30 p.m. The final day of play will also be covered on Sunday.

Baboons of a dozen species roam Africa south of the Sahara. Possessors of a brave appetite, they devour live scorpions, first tearing off the venomous stinger. On cold mornings when bees are too torpid to retaliate, baboons raid their combs and steal honey.

Marinite Hero Of Pacific Rescue Visits Parents In San Anselmo

AWARD FOR VALOR—Lt. William John Russell, USCG, is shown receiving the Distinguished Flying Cross for his heroism and skill as a pilot in the rescue of 57 persons in the Pacific on July 14, 1960. Russell, 30, is a 1949 graduate of San Rafael High School where he was a star athlete and honor student. Presenting the award is Russell's commanding officer, Capt. L. L. Davis. (Navy photo)

A home-grown hero wound up a San Rafael visit yesterday.

He is Coast Guard Lt. William Russell of 135 Rafael Drive, and holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross for his participation in the rescue of 57 persons huddled aboard life rafts in the fog-shrouded Pacific on the morning of July 14, 1960.

This was Russell's first visit home in over two years, during which time he has been stationed with the Coast Guard Air Detachment at Sangley Point in the Philippine Islands. He left yesterday for his new assignment at Traverse City, Mich., on the shore of Lake Michigan.

A veteran of more than half a hundred rescue missions, Russell was pilot of a UF2G plane that made an open water landing in four-foot swells to pick up survivors of a Northwest Orient Airlines plane which had been forced down on a flight from Tokyo to Manila. The story of the ill-fated flight and the Coast Guard rescue of the survivors was told in Saturday Evening Post of Jan. 21, 1961.

The plane had ditched with a burning engine after radioing its position to its home base. Five hours later, flying with a crew of seven, Russell spotted the orange smoke flares amidst the bobbing rafts.

"We almost missed them," he recalls. "They were in a heavy squall and we had actually turned away from them when I caught a glimpse of their flares."

Locating the rafts, however, was only the beginning of the job. Russell then had to land the plane in heavy seas, come alongside the survivors, then taxi 23 of them safely about 20 miles through choppy waters to the sheltered waters of Anibawan Bay on Polillo Island. The remaining survivors were taken aboard a Navy P5M.

His citation, presented in the name of the President by Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, called it an "extraordinary achievement."

The father of three children, Bill, 4; Mitchell, 2, and Neil, two months, Russell is a graduate of San Rafael High School where, in 1949 he played football, basketball and baseball. Captain of the football and basketball teams, he was also president of the student body and a member of the scholarship federation for three years.

He was graduated from the Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn., in 1953. Following a tour of duty at flight school in Pensacola, Fla., where he met his wife, Marjorie, he was sent to the Philippines.

The 30-year-old pilot, with 12 years service behind him, intends to make the Coast Guard his career.

How high can he go in the Coast Guard?

"Well," he said modestly, "admiral is the highest rank."

Bar Convention Delegates Named

San Anselmo attorney Wallace S. Myers will head a delegation of Marin attorneys to the 1961 conference of State Bar Delegates which meets as part of the State Bar convention Sept. 25-29 in Monterey.

San Rafael attorney Carlos Freitas, former Marin Superior Court judge, is on the executive committee for the conference.

Marin delegates to the conference include Myers as chairman, William O. Weissich and D. K. MacDonald Jr. Alternates are Roger Garety, S. J. Hugh Allen and John Buresh.

The surfaces of planes flying at twice the speed of sound will heat to 300 degrees Fahrenheit even in the fairly thin atmosphere at 30,000 feet.

Board Approves 9 County Jobs

Nine appointments to county jobs were approved Tuesday by the Marin County Board of Supervisors, along with 34 routine pay increases.

Appointments included:

Jo Ann Nadeau, group counsellor at juvenile hall at $461 per month; Joseph Carr, John M. Taylor, George Barberis and Robert Young, janitors at $335; William A. Bonini and Manuel V. Lopez, county firemen at $383; Veronica Snyder, practical nurse at county hospital at $293; Virginia Borland, library assistant at county library at $335.

G.E. To Build Atom Reactor At Vallecitos

WASHINGTON (UPI)—General Electric Co. has been given permission to build an experimental superheat reactor at its Vallecitos atomic laboratory near Pleasanton, the Atomic Energy Commission reported yesterday.

A permit to build the new reactor will go into effect Aug. 25 unless a petition protesting granting of the permit is received on or before Aug. 14.

AEC examiner Samuel Jensch, who held hearings on General Electric's application, said the company was both financially and technically qualified to build the reactor without "undue risk" to the public.

The AEC said a license to operate the reactor would be issued later after the company had submitted a final hazards report showing that its operation would not endanger the public health and safety.

Plan To Supply Wheat In Case Of Atom Attack

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An Agriculture Department task force is drafting a 70-million-dollar program to shift huge amounts of surplus wheat to the East and West coasts to feed survivors in case of a nuclear attack.

The government-owned grain would be moved from storage sites, mainly in the Midwest, to 68 possible target areas along the Atlantic and Pacific seaboard.

The program is designed to build an emergency stockpile of 213 million bushels of wheat so each person affected by any attack could draw an average of three-fourths of a pound a day for six months.

The grain relocation plan, talked about for several years, now is the subject of "working papers" prepared by a task force under Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles Murphy.

However, there is nothing final about the program and it is subject to change.

Here's how it might work: Binghamton, N. Y., a typical target area, would require 356,000 bushels of wheat to supply its populatiton of 158,140. Most of it would come from the Midwest.

About 89,000 bushels would be stored in the city and 267,000 more would be placed in nearby locations.

The program involves shipments of grain from storage in Kansas City, Wichita, Topeka, Minneapolis, Denver, Buffalo, Fort Worth, Omaha, Oklahoma City, Amarillo, and Enid, Okla., to both coasts.

Sheriff Office Vacancies Filled

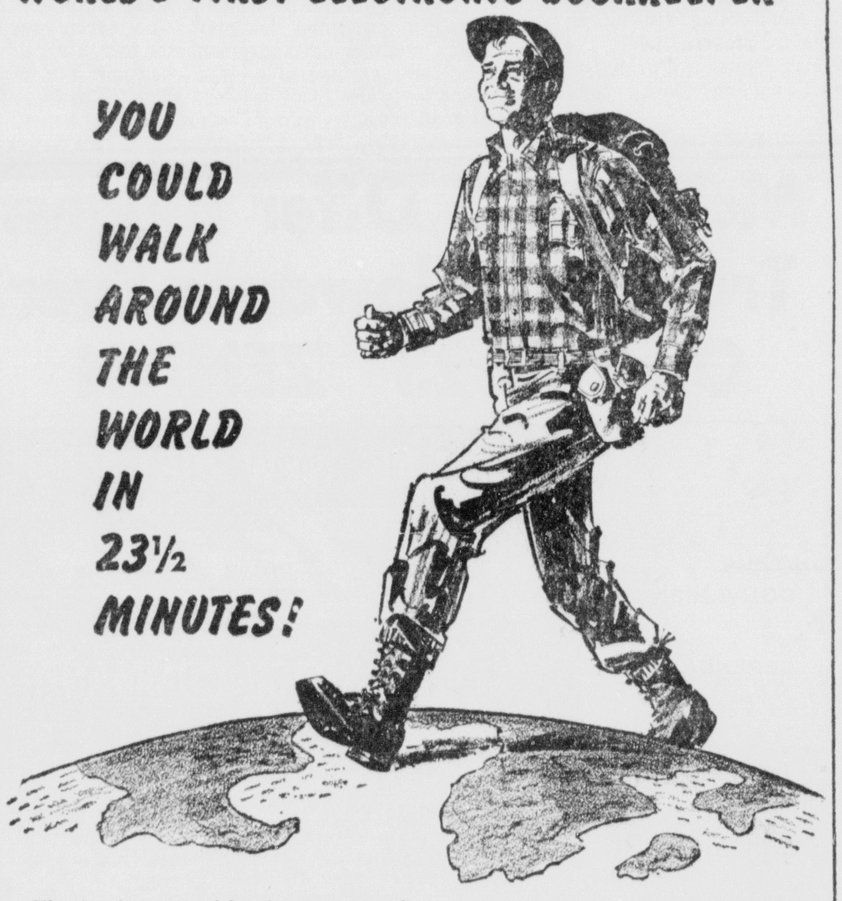

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos notified Marin supervisors of two vacancies in his department Tuesday and achieved prompt appointments.

John W. Crowe, who has been a part-time worker for the sheriff's civil department, was appointed fulltime deputy sheriff effective Aug. 1.

Mrs. Dorothy Shaffer was appointed matron as of the same date.

IT'S A FACT...ABOUT ERMA

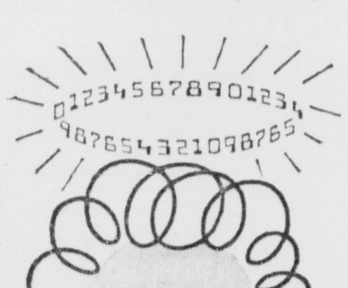

WORLD'S FIRST ELECTRONIC BOOKKEEPER

YOU COULD WALK AROUND THE WORLD IN 23½ MINUTES!

That's if you could take steps as fast as ERMA! You see, ERMA needs only 32 millionths of a second for each step in processing checks. ERMA is Bank of America's revolutionary new Electronic Recording Method of Accounting. Here's how ERMA works: the numbers on each ERMA check are printed with a special magnetic ink containing microscopic specks of iron. When a check goes through ERMA's electronic "reader," each number is magnetized and sends out an electric impulse which is recorded by a computer. Even though a check may be folded or crumpled, ERMA reads it accurately, computes your statement in moments, without error. That's our ERMA—and she works for you only at Bank of America!

ERMA CHECKS HER OWN ARITHMETIC!

ERMA not only prepares your statement in moments, but to make doubly sure there are no errors on it, ERMA checks all her own work afterward. Pioneered and developed by Bank of America, ERMA provides the fastest and most accurate service for handling checks in banking history!

ERMA KNOWS WHO YOU ARE—INSTANTLY!

As part of its ERMA system, Bank of America now gives all regular checking customers free personalized checks — your name and address printed on all your checks at no extra charge. Why not open your account today?
